

THE OHIO ALUMNUS

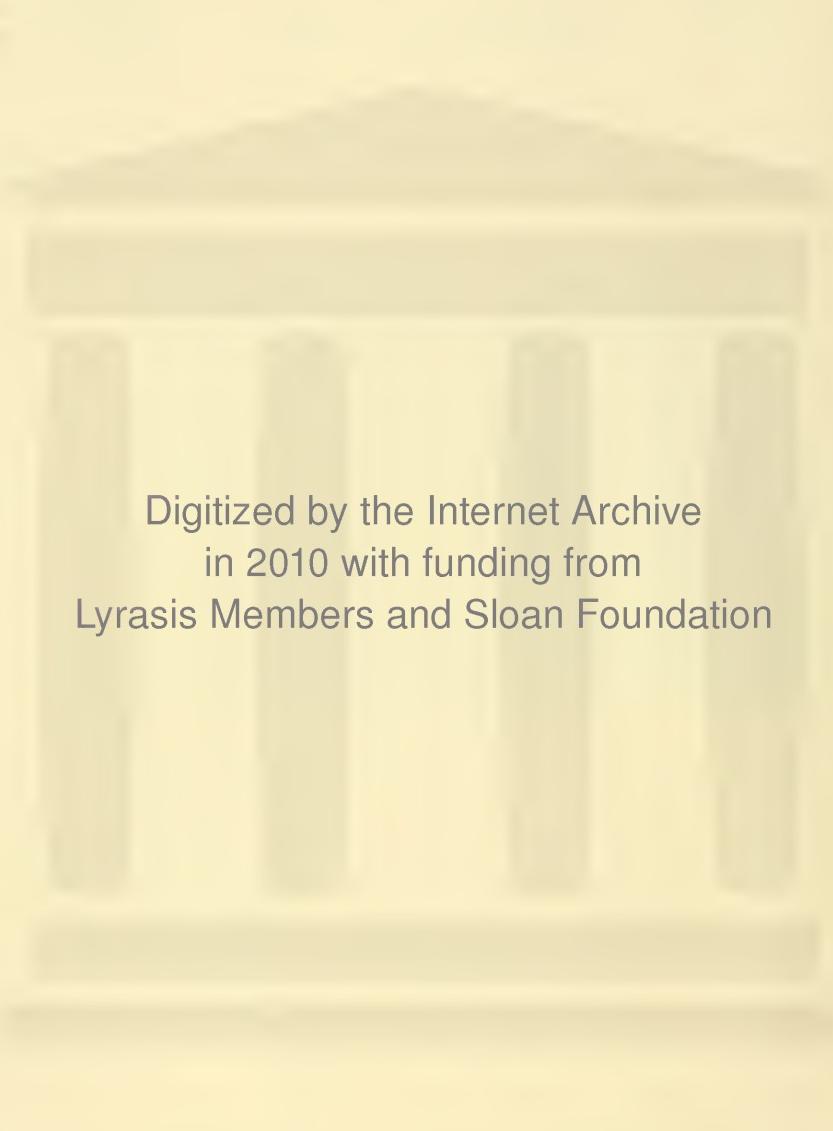

1946 - 1947

OHIO UNIVERSITY
LIBRARY
ATHENS - OHIO

GIFT OF

Clark E. Williams

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

<http://www.archive.org/details/ohioalumnusapril257ohio>

The OHIO ALUMNUS

April - 1947

From the Editor's Desk . . .

ADMISSION An action that meets with the hearty approval of the Alumni Secretary, and doubtless finds favor with other administrative officers having contacts with alumni who desire to see their children follow parental footsteps to the Ohio University campus, was recently recommended by the university executive committee and approved by President Baker. The action is of particular interest to out-of-state alumni, only, but that is a fairly large and rapidly increasing segment of the alumni body.

All residents of Ohio who are graduates of approved high schools are eligible to apply for admission to Ohio University. There is only one proviso; that if an applicant ranks in the lowest third of his graduating class he will be admitted "on warning." A student admitted with an "on warning" status may not be pledged to a fraternity or sorority and may not participate in extra-curricular activities until his scholastic status warrants it.

Because of crowded conditions and for other reasons, however, it has been required in recent years that an applicant from outside Ohio shall rank, in the case of a veteran, in the highest fifth of his high school class, and, in the case of a non-veteran, in the highest tenth of his graduating class in an approved high school and also qualify for admission to the state university of his state.

Now, as concrete evidence of the interest of Ohio University in its alumni and as a very real favor to their children, school authorities have changed the rules to permit the filing of applications for admission by sons or daughters of graduates and former students living outside the state if they rank in the upper third of their graduating classes and meet, of course, the other conditions of acceptance.

Out of seeming necessity admissions officers have had to say "no" to a number of Ohio University "legacies" during the past year or two. In some cases, the parents of these applicants were sorely disappointed, as were the children, themselves.

Because Ohio University, like its sister state-supported schools, is maintained largely by taxes raised within the state, it cannot admit without additional fees and without limit non-residents of the state who desire to enter it. It is believed that most Ohio University alumni living beyond the borders of the state understand and appreciate that fact. The liberalizing of the admissions policy can not help but make them happier folks.

TYPICAL While breakfasting one morning not long ago we learned by radio that rain was falling pretty generally throughout a six-state area. Certain it was that what trickled down inside our coat collar on the way to the office was not sunshine. But the point was it was raining throughout approximately one-eighth of these United States.

As we left home we remarked to the good wife, "I'll bet the first student I pass will be complaining about the 'typical Athens weather'."

Well, we lost our bet. It wasn't the first student—it was the second. We didn't know him, but the chances are 100 to 1 that it was pouring down rain back in the old home town—no more and no less typically than in Athens.

COVER The young woman on the cover page is a war veteran—and the wife of a veteran. She is Susan Harris Weimer, a former member of the Second Regiment of WAVES, and now a junior in the College of Fine Arts. Her husband, Don R. Weimer, Wooster, also a Navy vet, is a senior in the College of Commerce. With Mrs. Weimer in the picture is Veterans Co-ordinator Victor Whitehouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Weimer are one of eight married couples enrolled in the university, both parties of which are student-veterans. There are more than 600 married veterans all together.

After getting her boot training at Hunter College and her gunnery training at the Jam Handy School in Detroit, Susan served as a gunnery instructor at Naval Air Stations in Jacksonville, Miami, and Pensacola, Fla. Don trained with a Fleet Air Wing and flew on night anti-submarine patrols over the English Channel.

Do you know how and when green and white came to be chosen as the Ohio University colors, and if these have always been the school colors? The answers to these questions will appear in the May Alumnus.

THE OHIO ALUMNUS

Official Publication of
The Ohio University Alumni Association

CLARK E. WILLIAMS, '21, Editor
Published Monthly, October to June inclusive

VOL. XXV APRIL, 1947 No. 7

ENTERED as second class matter, October 3, 1927, at the Postoffice at Athens, Ohio, under the act of March 3, 1897.

ANNUAL DUES for membership in the Ohio University Alumni Association are $2.50, of which $1.50 is for a year's subscription to The Ohio Alumnus. Memberships are renewable on October first of each year.

DISCONTINUANCE—If any subscriber wishes his Alumnus discontinued at the expiration of his subscription, notice to that effect should be sent with the subscription, or at its expiration. Otherwise it is understood that a continuance is desired.

REMITTANCE should be made by check or money order, payable to the order of the Ohio University Alumni Association, and mailed to the Association, Box 285, Athens, Ohio.

Journalism Grad Leads in New Field

FOR SOME YEARS students at Ohio University's School of Journalism have been told that there is a real possibility that the newspaper of tomorrow may not be left on the doorstep, as it is at the present time, but will be found on the living room rug when members of the household come down for breakfast. This would be possible because of an instrument that can be attached to an ordinary radio to produce through the night a respectable sized newspaper, containing news, both text and pictorial, advertising, and other material that is a part of the conventional contents of a daily newspaper. Even when the students were told that the mechanical problems of that type of newspaper production had been practically solved they were inclined to regard the whole possibility as somewhat fantastic.

One student, however, took it more seriously, and, as a result, Franklyn K. Lauden, '40, is actively participating in the experimentation necessary and the actual development of this seemingly fantastic dream into a definite reality, a reality that is being accepted by forward-looking newspaper publishers as something worth their serious attention.

In this experimentation Mr. Lauden is making use of a background in newspaper make-up he received in the classroom and in directing the Ohio University Post as its editor in 1939 to 1940. To be sure, he created some confusion, if not despair, among employees of the Lawhead Press responsible for printing the thrice-a-week publication, but he did get a knowledge of type and problems of make-up that has been invaluable to him in his present responsibilities. Also, he is finding that his experimenting on the Post with unconventional newspaper writing styles is now paying dividends as helpful experience, for seven years later he is having a chance to apply some of his ideas in an experiment which may have a remarkable influence in newspaper production.

Since the first of the year Mr. Lauden has been living a part of the dream which started at Ohio University back in 1939, the dream of a new form of a daily, even hourly, newspaper distributed by radio. He is virtually the editorial staff of the Newspaper Publishers' Facsimile Service, a subsidiary of Radio Inventions, Inc., 155 Perry Street, New York 14, N. Y. He is responsible for writing most and editing all of the weekly confidential reports to subscribers to this service and for conducting with a virtually free hand experiments in typography layout, editing form, and writing style, for what he is confident will be the news, feature, and picture medium of the future.

In addition to the weekly report, the service is engaged in promoting the launching of regularly scheduled facsimile transmissions by broadcasters and newspapers with FM outlets. When such projects get into operation the Newspaper Publishers' Facsimile Service will also provide a sort of syndicate service, supplying facsimile publishers with features ready for transmission.

This method of transmission and distribution used by Mr. Lauden's organization was treated in an article published by Saturday Evening Post, Nov. 23, 1946. In March, John Knight conducted a two-week public demonstration of this equipment under the sponsorship of the Miami Herald in Miami, Fla. This was so successful that he expects to begin regularly scheduled facsimile publication later this year in Miami and subsequently in connection with the Akron (Ohio) Beacon-Journal and the Detroit (Mich.) Free Press. Another demonstration was given at the American Newspaper Publishers Association convention at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York in April of this year.

From an engineering standpoint facsimile is described as a new, fast, high-fidelity method of sending high-definition reproductions of printed matter and pictures by wire or radio. It can be used for transmitting facsimile newspapers in American homes; for transmitting almost instantaneously orders, charts, graphs, blue prints, plans and drawings, signatures, pictures, legal documents, texts of lengthy orders, and regulations from the main office of a concern to factory, branch offices, and distributors.

Facsimile can send text at a rate of 500 words a minute compared with the conventional 65 words now sent by teletype; it thus speeds the transmission of material for many purposes.

Any kind of copy that can be put on paper whether hand written, set in type, typewritten, drawn, or photographed can be broadcast with this system, a reproduction of the original becoming instantly visible as rapidly as it is transmitted to any number of radios within the radio range.

Facsimile broadcasting methods closely parallel those of sound broadcasting and rely largely upon the transmitting and receiving facilities already installed by FM listeners. The scanning equipment used for facsimile transmission turns the subject matter to be broadcast into sound or audio-frequency electric current variations corresponding to its black, white, and shaded portions. This "picture" signal is then broadcast by a conventional FM transmitter and picked up by the regular FM receiver in the home, office or production center. Instead of feeding a loudspeaker, as when — (Continued on next page)

Franklyn Lauden Examines Copy From Facsimile Recorder

Baumholtz Makes Good Start With National League Team

In the opening game of the 1947 baseball season Frank C. Baumholtz, '41, rookie outfielder for the Cincinnati Reds, twice hit safely against St. Louis, last year's world champions, and drove in the first run of the season for Cincinnati. In the third game Frankie contributed a home run clout to help defeat the visiting Cardinals and take the opening series, 3-1.

Frank C. Baumholtz and Son

Baumholtz, who has been an idol of Cleveland basketball fans as a member of the Cleveland Rebels, professional team, joined the Reds at their training camp in Tampa, Fla., early this year. The night of his final game with the Rebels was designated "Frankie Baumholtz Night."

While the Cincinnati management is predicting a big year on the diamond for the Ohioan, Frank has let it be known that he has an open mind on the game. He told a Cincinnati newsman that he could make more money playing basketball than he is slated to make in baseball this year, and that unless he progressed sufficiently on the diamond to merit a healthy salary increase for 1948 it would pay him to forget baseball and stick to basketball.

When Baumholtz left the Rebels late in February he was third high scorer in the Basketball Association of America and is reported to have been in a position to demand from $10,000 to $12,000 for the next season, provided he agreed to play the full schedule and not quit the court team in February for baseball.

The former Bobcat baseball and basketball star spent four years in the Navy, a portion of the time at Great Lakes Naval Training Station where, in extremely fast company, he made a name for himself in both of his favorite sports. His foreign duty included many trips through the North Sea on the highly dangerous "Murmansk run."

Last year Baumholtz had a batting average of .346 with Columbia, S. C., in the Class A "Sally" League. Before the war he split one season between Riverside, Calif., and Ogden, Utah.

Frank married Bettie Bell, a Cleveland girl and Ohio University classmate, in 1942. He is pictured with his son, Frank Conrad, Jr., who was born late last July.

Journalism Grad Leads In New Publication Field

(Continued from preceding page)

receiving musical programs, the received signal is used to actuate the facsimile recorder. The only changes necessary to broadcast facsimile instead of sound are to substitute scanner for microphone at the transmitter, and recorder for loudspeaker at the receiver.

The heart of the scanner is the photoelectric cell or "electric eye." Its output varies in proportion to the light impressed on it.

The paper unrolls before the eye at just under three and one-half inches a minute. The recording paper is nine and one-half inches wide. The copy is divided into 11½ inch pages. Four of these can be sent and reproduced in a fifteen-minute broadcast period. Since 4,000 to 4,500 words can be set up in four pages, including heads and illustrations for attractive make-up, a facsimile newspaper can deliver several times the wordage that a radio commentator can speak in equal time.

Mr. Lauden has recently purchased a home in the residential town of Crawford, New Jersey, and expects to be living in it before the first of May. His wife is the former Anna Lee Hamric, '40. They have two young children: Franklyn Keehn, Jr., and Anne Hamric.

Marine Flyer Decorated At Norfolk Air Station

In the accompanying picture, Major Fred J. Frazer, USMC, commanding officer of the Marine Air Detachment at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va., is shown receiving from Brigadier General Christian F. Schilt the Distinguished Flying Cross with two gold stars in lieu of the second and third Crescents, and the

Major Fred J. Frazer Receives Decorations

Air Medal with gold stars in lieu of the second, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth Air Medals. Gold stars in lieu of the third and eleventh Air Medals had been presented previously.

General Schilt, USMC, Commander, Marine Air Reserve Training, presented the decorations at the Norfolk station. Major Frazer was awarded the medals for seventy missions against Japanese installations in the Philippines as commanding officer of a Marine dive-bombing squadron, VMSB 236.

The Ohio University man was seriously burned and miraculously escaped death early in the war when the U. S. S. Quincy was sunk in the Southwest Pacific.

He married Edith M. Maneggie, '40, a secretary at the time in the Ohio University Alumni Office. The Frazers have a daughter, Bonnie, now three and one-half years of age.

Former Navy Man to Succeed Young; Fenzel Assists Dean

APPOINTMENT of Capt. Edwin James Taylor, Jr., U. S. Navy (Ret.) as dean of Ohio University's College of Applied Science was announced recently by President Baker.

Capt. Taylor, whose combat duty during World War II included service aboard battleships and cruisers as executive and engineer officer, will join the university faculty about May 1.

A native of Bismarck, N. D., Capt. Taylor succeeds Dean A. H. Armbruster of the College of Commerce who, in addition to his previous duties, was named acting dean of Applied Science in 1942 when Dr. William W. Young went on active duty in the Army. Lt. Col. Young resigned as dean last summer to remain in military service.

President Baker described Capt. Taylor as a "very able naval officer, fully capable of handling the administrative duties in the College of Applied Science with its record enrollment of 400 students." The college includes the engineering, aviation, agriculture, and industrial arts departments and the School of Home Economics.

Recently retired after 23 years in the Navy, Capt. Taylor is a 1924 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. He took a post-graduate course in 1930-31, majoring in mechanical engineering and minoring in electrical engineering. The following year he earned a master's degree in mechanical engineering at Columbia University.

Nearly 20 years of Capt. Taylor's naval service were spent at sea. His last tour of duty was as industrial manager for the Ninth Naval District headquarters at Chicago. Battleships he has served on include the U. S. S. Arizona, U. S. S. Mississippi, U. S. S. Alabama and the U. S. S. South Dakota.

Capt. Taylor was executive officer aboard the South Dakota, taking part in campaigns for the Gilbert, Marshall, Caroline, and Marianas Islands, and the battles of the Philippine Sea and Leyte Gulf. He was attached to Cruiser Division Five as Chief of staff, and had a part in the Iwo Jima and Okinawa campaigns and in the Japanese surrender at Ominato, Japan.

Previously, the newly-appointed dean had had duty aboard the cruisers U. S. S. Pensacola, U. S. S. Trenton, and U. S. S. Northhampton. He also had been engineer officer aboard the destroyer U. S. S. Maury. His last sea duty was as commanding officer of the U. S. S. Pondera, an attack transport.

Capt. Taylor had a tour of duty at Pearl Harbor as ship superintendent at the Navy Yard. As assistant inspector of machinery for the Navy at the Westinghouse Electric Co. plant at Essington, Pa., he helped to supervise construction of the U. S. S. Alabama's giant engines.

The retired naval officer holds numerous decorations. They include the Bronze Star, American Defense, American Sector, European Sector, and Pacific-Asiatic Sector medals, the latter with eight battle stars, and the Victory, Occupation of Japan, and Philippine Liberation medals.

Capt. Taylor is married and the father of two sons, aged 9 and 6. He and Mrs. Taylor expect to establish a home in Athens at an early date.

The assignment of "extracurricular" duties to four well-known members of the Ohio University faculty will be of interest to Green and White alumni.

William H. Fenzel, '18, associate professor of accounting and economic geography, has been appointed assistant to the dean of the College of Commerce. He will continue his teaching, but in his new capacity will aid Dean Armbruster in the advising of students and in administrative duties of the college.

Mr. Fenzel, who was adviser to the business manager of the Ohio University Post, will be replaced in that position by Dr. Carl O. Hanson, professor of banking and finance.

Dr. Karl H. Krauskopf, professor of advertising, has been named chairman of Ohio University's Committee for Reorganizing and Encouraging Scholarship. He succeeds Dr. A. B.

Capt. Edwin J. Taylor, Jr.

Sias, professor of school administration, who asked to be relieved of the chairmanship.

The purpose of the committee is to create an "intellectual climate" at Ohio University leading to better scholarship for the whole student body, not for just a few outstanding individuals.

A new type of scholarship award is being planned. For this purpose $2,500 is currently available; $2,000 granted by the Ohio University Fund, and a $500 gift from last year's graduating class.

Vincent J. Jukes, '30, assistant professor of dramatic art and speech, has been appointed chairman of a committee composed of some twenty faculty members, students, and townspeople to plan ceremonies for the re-dedication of Cutler Hall this fall.

October 18 and 19 have been chosen as dates for a celebration that is expected to attract nation-wide attention. Major details of the program may be available for publication in the next issue of The Alumnus.

The formal rededication of the 131-year-old structure now undergoing rehabilitation and restoration to its early American style of architecture, will take place Sunday, the 19th.

Dr. Lawrence P. Eblin, '31, associate professor of chemistry, has accepted appointment to the chairmanship of a group whose primary duty it will be to get research problems under way in all divisions of the university.

On and About the Campus . . .

THE SECOND SEMESTER enrollment of World War II veterans for the current school year has set an all-time high. A total of 3,367 veterans was registered for the spring semester—21 more than enrolled last fall. This figure includes 657 married exservicemen. A breakdown of the figures for veterans show 2,934 on the main campus and 433 at the branches in Portsmouth, Chillicothe and Zanesville. Last fall there were 2,921 former servicemen on the Athens campus and 425 off-campus veterans.

The present registration of all students totals 5,720, a decrease of only 75 as compared with the record 5,795 set the first semester. An enrollment of approximately 5,000 veterans has been forecast for Ohio University next fall by Assistant Veterans Coordinator Bernard D. Osborne, '41. Acting Registrar Mahn also has predicted a jump in over-all registration, placing the enrollment on the main campus at from 5,500-6,000 and from 800-1,000 at the branches for a grand total of 6,300-7,000.

THE ELECTION of twelve seniors, one junior, and two of this year's January graduates to membership in Phi Beta Kappa has been announced by Raymer McQuiston, associate professor of English and secretary of the local chapter of the national honor society. The seniors are: Robert Bloor, East Liverpool; John Reed, Athens; Wayne Hammond, Willoughby; Robert Bird, Athens; Marilynn Miller, Akron; Shirley Biller, Youngstown; Lewis Reinwald, Springfield; Alberta Lewis, Lakewood; Mary Patton, Athens; Charlotte Eaton, Youngstown; Elizabeth Wolfe, Athens; and Phillip Cook, East Cleveland. The junior is Fred Tate, Pine Lake, Wisc., while the two recent graduates are Marius Garofalo, Steubenville, and Elizabeth Shugart, Harpers Ferry, W. Va. Junior Tate, a chemistry major, has the highest scholastic average at the present time, having achieved a very enviable 3.926 out of a possible point average of 4,000.

RECOGNITIONS not often accorded a freshman student were the assignment this spring of feminine leads in two campus shows to Janet Ingerham (see picture), Athens, and her selection as guest soloist with the Men's Glee Club in its annual formal concert. The shows were "No, No, Nanette," a musical comedy presented by the Fine Arts Council, and "Honey," this year's YWCA-sponsored Prep Follies vehicle. Words and music for the latter

J. Smith, associate professor of history, has brought to the campus three authoritative speakers to address university convocations and conduct round table discussions, and on May 6 will bring a fourth speaker to the campus for the same purpose.

On April 9, Joseph E. Johnson, chief of the Division of International Security Affairs of the U. S. State Department and chief technical expert in the U. S. delegation to the UN Conference at San Francisco in 1945, spoke to a "town and gown" group on "American Security and the United Nations." In classroom discussions Mr. Johnson discussed "The Problems of American Foreign Relations in Light of the Existing Situation."

On the following day, Señor Alfonso Robles, member of the Mexican Ministry of Foreign Affairs, who is serving as a liaison officer with the UN, discussed "The Security Council and the United Nations," Señor Robles was accompanied to Athens by Edmond Wright, executive aide to the assistant secretary-general of the UN, who conducted a series of seminar discussions on subjects pertinent to the main theme.

On May 6, Sir Guy Garrod, a British delegate to the United Nations and chief of the British Military Staff Committee, will speak in Alumni Memorial Auditorium on "Anglo-American Problems Affecting the United Nations."

Soprano Janet Ingerham

were written by Ann Rogolsky, Cleveland, and Bob Irvine, Etna, Pa., a senior and sophomore, respectively, and by Ernie Mariani, Youngstown, '43, a graduate student. The Men's Glee Club, under Assistant Prof. Philip Peterson, and the Women's Glee Club, under Prof. C. C. Robinson, combined in the presentation this year of their annual programs on March 23. Miss Ingerham, a soprano, is the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. DeForest Ingerham. Prof. Ingerham is professor of violin and conductor of the Ohio University Symphony Orchestra.

TO ACQUAINT Ohio University students with the United Nations -- its organization, methods, and hopes--er, as President Baker puts it, "to make the UN intelligible," a committee, headed by Dr. Wilfred

BESIDES the United Nations speakers other distinguished speakers who have appeared before convocation or other campus audiences during the past month are: Dr. Theodore Jackman, Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of London; Dr. Wallace B. Donham, former dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration; and Dr. Irving Fisher, of the Institute of International Education. Dr. Jackman's subject was "Ancient and Modern Palestine, a Study in Contrasts."

Dean Donham, now devoting his time to the development of better human relations, discussed his ideas on liberal education.

Dr. Fisher is assistant director of the I. I. E., a private organization that works with the U. S. State Department in arranging for the exchange of students between foreign countries and the U. S. There are nearly 17,000 foreign students now studying in the States.

CHI OMEGA topped the list, both for active and pledge chapters, in the sorority scholastic averages for the first semester of the current school year. In the following order, of active chapters, came Alpha Gamma Delta, Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Delta Pi, Theta Rho, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Sigma Sigma, Phi Mu, and Alpha Xi Delta.

Among the fraternities the top honor, for active chapters, went to Pi Kappa Alpha, with the others trailing as follows: Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Theta Gamma, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Epsilon Pi, Beta Theta Pi, Theta Chi, Phi Kappa, Alpha Phi Delta, and Phi Kappa Tau. One lone "Teke" pledge ranked first among the pledge chapters, with the Beta Theta Pi freshmen showing best among the larger groups.

OHIO UNIVERSITY'S general registration fee will be increased from $40 to $45 a semester at the beginning of the new school year in September. The additional fee of $75 for non-residents of Ohio will remain the same, but the total for out-of-state will, of course, be $5 higher. The increase was made so that there would be uniformity in the rates charged by all of the state-supported universities in Ohio—$90 for the academic year of two semesters or the equivalent. The action was taken in conformity with a policy of the Inter-University Council and at the suggestion of Governor Herbert and key figures in the state legislature. The Inter-University Council is made up of representatives of Ohio State, Ohio U., Miami, Bowling Green, Kent, and Wilberforce. For a report of a liberalization of the admissions policy as it affects the children of alumni, see page 2.

DR. EDWIN FRANKO GOLDMAN of New York, famed band conductor and composer, will be guest conductor at the 24th anniversary concert of the Ohio University Symphonic Band (see below) to be held in Alumni Memorial Auditorium on April 24. An admission fee will be charged and the proceeds of the concert are to be used in establishment of an Ohio University Bands Scholarship Fund. The opening part of the band concert will be conducted by the band's regular director, Bandmaster Daniel L. Martino. Miss Flora Chiarappa, pianist and member of the faculty of the Ohio University School of Music, will appear on the program as guest artist. Dr. Goldman, who also will address a university convocation on the day of the concert, has composed more than a hundred marches and is considered the greatest musician in this field since Sousa. An announcement of a Band Clinic and Workshop to be held during the 1947 Summer School will be found on the back page of this magazine.

Two other distinguished guest conductors will come to the campus next month. On Sunday evening, May 4, Mishel Pastro, a violinist, composer, and conductor of the Longine Symphonette heard each Sunday on the NBC network, will mount the podium to conduct a portion of the program to be offered by the University Symphony Orchestra. On Sunday evening, May 11, Dr. Archibald T. Davidson, author, composer, lecturer, and founder and conductor of the Harvard Glee Club, will conduct the full program to be given by the University Chorus.

IN THE LARGEST initiation ever held by an honor society at Ohio University 71 men were made members, April 17, of Phi Eta Sigma, a society for the recognition of scholastic attainment on the part of freshman men. All of the initiates had a record of 3.5 out of a possible 4.0 in their first semesters on the campus. Principal speaker at the induction ceremonies was Dr. Wilfred J. Smith, of the history department, who spoke on "The Place of Youth in the Modern World."

APRL 26 is the date of the traditional spring social event known as the Junior Prom. In order that Prom goers may dance with some degree of safety and comfort the committee has announced that only 800 tickets will be sold this year. Furthermore the committee states that the ticket price, $4.80, will include a corsage of two gardenias for the young lady. Music for the Prom will be provided by Ray McKinley and his orchestra . . . Tony Pastor's band played for the Inter-Fraternity Ball on March 22, while the Sonny Dunham orchestra was the choice for the O. U. Engineers' Ball on April 11.

Ohio University's 85-Piece Symphonic Band

Dr. Jones Telephone Pioneer

AT 76, Dr. Clarence Lindley Jones, '93x, Athens, is still active in the direction of the affairs of the Athens Home Telephone Company and sees to it that the company's reputation for top quality service to citizens of the community and to the students of Ohio University is maintained by the addition of every new development or improvement in the industry. He is secretary-manager of the local company.

A native of Athens, Dr. Jones attended Ohio University as a preparatory and undergraduate student during the years 1877-1892. A year of engineering work at Rose Polytechnic Institute, Terre Haute, Ind., was followed by a three-year course in dentistry at the University of Maryland which ended with the receipt of a D.D.S. degree in 1895. He practiced his profession in small Athens County communities until 1899 when he moved his office to Athens.

At that time he had a telephone installed in his office by a company that had lines to Londonderry, Chillicothe, McArthur, and Albany. For two years this toll line furnished the only communication by telephone with a large area of the territory surrounding Athens. After two years, a 20-line switchboard was installed and the exchange expanded so rapidly that it outgrew the confines of his dental office.

In 1909, Dr. Jones put aside his drill and forceps to give full time to the management of what is now the Athens Home Telephone Company, a concern housed in a modern building and recognized as one of the best equipped independent companies in the country. Characteristic of the progressive management was the installation of an extensive underground cable system, one of the first in this part of the state.

In addition to the main office, the company has exchanges at Albany, Amesville, Chauncey, Jerseyville, and New Marshfield.

One does not appreciate the extent of the service rendered by the Athens exchange until he learns that from 30,000 to 40,000 local calls are handled daily by the dial (automatic) system, and that from 600 to 700 outgoing, "long distance," calls are initiated each day by the local operators. The latter figures do not include the incoming or through calls. Officials of the company estimate that approximately one half of the local calls are attributable to students.

A pioneer in other things than telephones, Dr. Jones was the first Athens resident to own an automobile, a phonograph, and a radio.

The Athenian was president for two years and a director for 25 years of the Ohio Independent Telephone Association; and a director for 15 years of the United States Independent Telephone Association. He is a life member of the Independent Telephone Pioneers and the Telephone Pioneers of America.

Dr. Clarence Lindley Jones

Dr. Jones is a great-great nephew of the Rev. Jacob Lindley, first president of Ohio University. He is the father of Rolland S. Jones, '27, plant manager of the telephone company, and Mrs. L. E. Sweeney (Ruth Jones, '29), Cleveland.

O.U. Fund Has New Officers

JOHN W. GALBREATH, '20, prominent Columbus realtor and sportsman, was elected president of the Ohio University Fund, Inc., at a recent meeting of the organization.

Mr. Galbreath succeeds Arthur C. Johnson, editor and associate publisher of The Columbus Dispatch. Mr. Johnson, the Fund's first president and a life trustee of Ohio University, remains as a Fund trustee.

At the same meeting George A. Banks, '29, Athens businessman, was appointed associate director of the Fund to replace Harold E. Wise, '28, who became head football coach on March 1.

The Ohio University Fund, organized a year ago, has had $36,510 subscribed by alumni and friends for specific university projects, including research, student aid, special equipment, library needs, and travel.

Mr. Galbreath is a former president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and a former president of the Ohio University Alumni Association. Treasurer of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club, he also owns the Darby Dan Farm where he breeds blooded race horses. He was closely associated with Sen. John W. Bricker in the latter's campaign for the 1944 Republican presidential nomination.

Mr. Banks recently sold his interest in a dairy products distributing firm in Athens which he managed for 14 years following five years spent in

(Continued on page 19)

John W. Galbreath

Faculty Research Encouraged by Fund

LADIES, did you ever think that the cost of your future nylons may depend on research done with fern fossils?

Dr. Arthur H. Bickle, associate professor of botany at Ohio University, thinks it is probable since the "manufacturer's ability to select the best type of coal to be used in making them may be tied in with fern spore identification."

Just completing a study of tree fern fossils and coal found in southeastern Ohio, Dr. Bickle explained that positive identification of fern spores may eventually aid in determining the presence or absence of certain types of coal in a given area, thereby improving the quality of raw material used in making nylon.

Furthermore, the young botanist said, research in fern fossils is essential to the understanding of rock succession in formations of the upper Pennsylvanian system in Ohio.

"Fern spores found in fossils are useful as indicators of certain coal beds, chiefly those of the Upper Coal period rocks formed 240 million years ago," Dr. Bickle pointed out, adding that there are 43 named veins in the state.

Dr. Bickle's project is being finished through a $250 grant made available by the Ohio University Fund, Inc., with the approval of the university's new research committee set up by President Baker "to foster and encourage" scientific studies.

Closely allied with Dr. Bickle's study is that of Dr. Myron T. Sturgeon, assistant professor of geology, who received the second grant, $150, to illustrate papers he has written on research done with snail and lamp shell fossils in limestones found just above coal beds.

The geologist explained that his work correlates with Dr. Bickle's study of fern fossils in determining the rock succession of the Pennsylvania system, which contains the coal-bearing strata.

Dr. Sturgeon said his findings would help the coal industry in identifying certain minable coal beds that are deeply buried in parts of eastern Ohio. It may also serve, he added, to aid in identification of limestone of commercial value.

Beginning his research while a graduate student at Ohio State University 12 years ago, Dr. Sturgeon plans to do scientific work in at least four other fields of fossils.

Dr. H. C. Lehman, professor of psychology, has long engaged in research to determine the chronological ages at which men achieve their peak performances. He has studied individuals in such groups of people as scientists, musicians, writers, etc. The results of his findings have been widely published in scientific journals in the U.S. and abroad and referred to in such "lay" publications as Time Magazine.

Recently he declared that man's accomplishments resulting from mental effort have doubled each century for the past 300 years.

These conclusions were reached by the Ohio University psychologist after tabulating the achievements of man in 13 fields—chemistry, geology, mathematics, education, political science, best books, entomology, botany, grand opera, philosophy, genetics, and orchestral and symphonic music. He published graphs of the progress in each field in the magazine Social Forces. The Scientific Monthly, official publication of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, also has given much space to reporting his findings.

In one field, genetics, according to Dr. Lehman, more has been learned about heredity during the first quarter of this century than in all preceding centuries together.

Of the present, he notes that because of the work machines do an individual may have "a stubborn problem in finding work that permits him to develop intellectually and spiritually."

Dr. L. P. Eblin, associate professor of chemistry, and research committee chairman, announced that a third grant, $100, has been made to the Edwin Watts Chubb Library. It will be used for transportation and other expenses incidental to the exchange among libraries of books to be used by Ohio University faculty members in the development of research projects.

Revealing that one other request for money by a faculty member planning to do research is pending, Dr. Eblin said his committee was trying to get scientific studies under way in all divisions of the university.

Title to any equipment bought from moneys made available by the Fund will go to the university and not to the individual using it, and any faculty member publishing material which was completed with financial aid from the Fund is to give credit for it.

All requests for grants must be specific and for the exact amount needed. Arrangements for the use of grants are to be made with Paul R. O'Brien, '32, university controller and Fund treasurer.

Besides Dr. Eblin, other research committee members are Dr. Lehman; Dr. J. B. Heidler, English; Dr. E. A. Taylor, sociology; and Dr. H. H. Roseberry, physics.

Dr. Bickle Shows Specimen to Dr. Lehman

Ohio University is located in the center of the largest petrified forest in the eastern half of the U.S., says Dr. Arthur H. Bickle, associate professor of botany. He is pictured (seated) showing the internal structure of a preserved silicified tree fern stem to Dr. H. C. Lehman, psychology professor and member of Ohio University's special committee to foster research.

The Bobcat Sports Review

By RALPH STONE SMITH

WITH FOUR WINS and two losses on the Southern spring training trip, Ohio University's baseballers returned home April 8 and opened their regular season by being defeated 6-3 by Ohio State.

Despite the loss, the Bobcat nine played good ball and gave promise of causing plenty of trouble for the remainder of the tough 31-game schedule.

The Green and White, with letterman Mark Wylie of Gibsonville on the mound, led Ohio State 3-2 going into the ninth. But two Buck hits, an error and a wild pitch by southpaw Jurkovic of Canton, who relieved Wylie, accounted for four more runs. Thirteen Bobcats were left stranded.

However, Wylie pitched good ball, whiffing six batters and allowing only four blows. He hurled the last three frames in the rain.

Third Baseman Melvin Clark of New Haven, W. Va., led the attack with a triple and a single against three Buck pitchers. A newcomer to the squad, he hit for a .333 average in the first seven games.

Other Bobcats, who played in all seven frays with a .300 or better average were Shortstop Charley Horn of Crooksville with .310 and

First Baseman Bill Brooks of Carbondale with an even .300. Both men made monograms last season.

Starting lineup and batting order: Michael Olasin of Athens, lf; Horn, ss; Clark 3b; Brooks, 1b; John Madden of Tiltonsville, rf; King Brady of Yakima, Wash., cf; Jack Singerman of Tiltonsville, 2b; John Linscott of The Plains, c; and Wylie, p.

Coach Don C. Peden, accompanied by a squad of 18 players which included nine lettermen, opened the training trip with a 5-3 win over Catawba. The game went 10 innings with Ohio getting three runs in the overtime frame. Kenneth Willson of Cleveland Heights was the winning pitcher.

Jurkovic was wild, walking five men, and gave up three hits and allowed four runs in the three innings he toiled on the mound against Wake Forest. The North Carolinians won 8-2. The Bobcats were able to get only three safe blows.

Ohio U. failed to hit in the clutches and lost to Duke by 2-0 in a pitcher's duel in which Don Poling of Lancaster was on the hill for the Bobcats.

But the next day the Green and White jumped on the offerings of three of Duke's hurlers for 16 hits and won 10-5. Clark got three hits out of six times at bat. Wylie was credited with the victory.

Jurkovic coasted to an easy 21-9 victory over the Naval Training Station nine at Norfolk. His mates got 16 hits, including a homer by Clark. Brady stole four bases. Ohio U. racked up an 18-0 lead before the sailors could get up steam.

The final road trip saw the Bobcats coming from behind to defeat West Virginia Tech 3-2. Poling pitched for Ohio and held the opposing batsmen to seven blows. Scheduled games with VPI and North Carolina were rained out.

Men making the trip were: Pitchers — Wylie, Jurkovic, Poling, Willson and Jerry Kaufman of Cleveland.

Catchers — Linscott, Gene Ruszkowski of Cleveland and John Ropp, Mansfield.

Freshman Grid Coach Frank Richey

1947 BASEBALL SCHEDULE

APRIL

- 8—Ohio State at Athens
- 9—Goodyear at Athens
- 10—Goodyear at Athens
- 11—West Virginia at Athens
- 12—West Virginia at Athens
- 15—Marietta at Athens
- 18—Western Reserve at Athens
- 19—Western Reserve at Athens
- 22—Ohio State at Columbus
- 25—Cincinnati at Cincinnati
- 26—Miami at Oxford

MAY

- 3—Xavier at Cincinnati
- 7—Marietta at Marietta
- 9—Butler at Athens
- 10—Butler at Athens
- 13—Dayton at Dayton
- 16—Miami at Athens
- 17—Cincinnati at Athens
- 23—Wayne at Detroit
- 24—Wayne at Detroit
- 30—Xavier at Athens
- 31—Dayton at Athens

JUNE

- 7—Doubleheader with Goodyear at Akron

Infielders — Brooks, Singerman, Horn, Clark and Olasin who also plays the outfield.

Outfielders — Brady, Madden, Ralph Sayre of New Haven, W. Va., Herb Pollock of Columbus and Larry Flor, Powhatan Point.

Lettermen are Jurkovic, who won four and lost three last year as the Bobcats copped 13 out of 19 starts; Wylie, Ruszkowski, Brooks, Horn, Madden, Brady, Singerman and Sayre.

New Freshman Coach

FRANK RICHEY, star quarterback at Ohio Wesleyan in 1943 and former outstanding all-around athlete at Columbus West High School, has been appointed freshman football coach at Ohio University.

Richey, a 10-letterman at Columbus West from 1934 to 1938, joined the Bobcat coaching staff on April 1. He also will serve as a physical welfare instructor.

Football Coach Harold E. Wise, under whom Richey played his high school football, baseball, and basketball, termed the new appointee "one of the finest quarterbacks I know." Both coaches are familiar with the T, single and double wing, and short punt formations.

Richey's appointment completes Ohio University's athletic department personnel changes which began with the resignation last month of Don C. Peden as head football coach and the naming of Wise, an assistant mentor, to handle the varsity pigskin aspirants.

Peden, who retained his post as director of athletics and baseball coach, said Richey would be assisted by Track Coach Roy E. Pille.

Basketball Coach W. J. "Dutch" Trautwein, who also has been in charge of the varsity linemen, has been relieved of that duty so that "he can supervise basketball practice beginning in October instead of having to wait until the football season is over." However, Trautwein will continue to help with the line early in the season.

Assistant Coaches Kermit Blosser and Jim Snyder, both former Ohio U. star athletes, will assist Wise with the varsity line and backs, respectively. They joined the staff last summer.

Richey is 26 years old and a veteran of three years service in the Naval Reserve, being discharged with the rank of lieutenant (jg.). He made two letters at Ohio Wesleyan in football and one in baseball before graduating with an AB degree in 1943. He won a freshman football numeral at Ohio State in 1939 as a halfback, and has just finished the winter quarter at State, working toward a BS degree.

While attending Columbus West, Richey played on the 1936 and 1937 championship city football teams, the 1937 city champ basketball quintet and the 1937 district's top baseball nine.

In 1939 he lettered at right half on the football team at the Hun School, Princeton, N. J.

The new freshman mentor is married, his wife, a Columbus girl, being the former Ruth Goodwin.

Shrider All-Conference Choice

DICK SHRIDER of Glenford, who sparked the Ohio University basketball team to a winning season and second place in the Mid-American Conference, was chosen at forward on the first All-Conference quintet selected by newspapermen, radio sportscasters, and loop coaches.

Ralph "Buckshot" O'Brien of Butler was picked at the other forward post. Bill Westerfeld of Cincinnati and Hank Lefkowitz of Western Reserve were both named for the pivot spot. Charles Maas of Butler and Al Rubenstein of Cincinnati were the choices for guards.

Shrider, a junior playing his first season for the Bobcats, made 262 points for second high scoring honors among his teammates. Forward Kenny Walters of New Lexington meshed 267 for top honors, but did not display the class on the hardwood shown by Shrider.

A former All-Ohio interscholastic selection twice in a row while at Glenford, Shrider was used at forward and guard and played both posi-

THE 1947 GOLF SCHEDULE

APRIL

- 18—Marietta at Athens
- 19—Akron Goodyear at Athens
- 24—Miami at Oxford
- 25—Cincinnati and Xavier (triangular meet) at Cincinnati
- MAY
- 2—Kent State at Kent
- 3—Akron Goodyear at Akron
- 9—Wayne at Athens
- 13—Marietta at Marietta
- 16—Miami at Athens
- 17—Kenyon and Xavier (triangular meet) at Athens
- 23, 24—Mid-American Conference Meet at Detroit, Mich.

tions in polished fashion. It was his 20 points that paced the Ohio U. basketeers to an upset 62-53 win over Butler in the final game of the season for the Bobcats.

Shrider, who will be back next year in Green and White livery, is a World War II Navy veteran and is married. He is 23 years old, stands 6-1½ and weighs 175.

Track Schedule and Prospects

OHIO UNIVERSITY has scheduled five dual track meets and will enter the Mid-American Conference and All-Ohio Collegiate meets.

The Bobcats will open the season Apr. 19 with Western Reserve at Cleveland. Other dual meets away from home are with Pittsburgh and Ohio Wesleyan. Bowling Green and Cincinnati will be met in Ohio Stadium at Athens.

Coach Roy F. Pille's cindermen won five out of six dual meets last spring and placed third in the All-Ohio invitational. Victories were racked up over all of this season's opponents except Pittsburgh and were highlighted by the 101-20 swamping of Western Reserve.

But this year Coach Pille is not optimistic about his chances for a winning season even though he has 11 lettermen available. His chief problems are the lack of any experienced low or high hurdlers and a shortage of distance men.

However, on the brighter side there are Harry Cox of Danville, Ill., high point Bobcat thimelad last year who set a new All-Ohio record of 21.5 seconds in the 220-yard dash, and Fred Schleicher of Cleveland (John Marshall High), who hung up a new mark in the All-Ohio by hurling the discus 14'2". Schleicher, a senior, also tosses the shot in good fashion.

Among the newcomers Richard Mills of Lakewood is regarded as "an excellent prospect" in the 880-yard run, and Robert Valentino of Cleveland (Rhodes High) has stepped the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat in the few times the 38-man squad has had a chance to practice outdoors.

Other Bobcat lettermen who are expected by Coach Pille to again garner several points are Bill Cowden of Lakewood, a high jumper; Bill Kuhner of Jackson, broad jumper; Charles Ogg of Stewart, pole vaulter; Gordon Cox of Cleveland (Rhodes) and Bill Benson of Brooklyn, N. Y., milers; Henry Saulnier of Swarthmore, Pa., 880-yard runner; Mac Baas of Cincinnati (Deer Park High), Seemen Rose of Erie, Pa., and Al McCune of Stewart, 440-yard runners, and Chris Stefan of Dayton, dashman.

Other newcomers looking good are:

Dashes — William Pietrick of Cleveland (Rhodes); James Climer, Londonderry; Fred Burnham, Strongsville; Bill Loxley, West Alexandria; Milt Ganger, Cleveland Heights; Bill Horn, New Castle; and Gene Gyurko, Toledo (Maconber Vocational High).

440-yard run — Dallas Enzman of Austintburg; Roy Johnson, Canton (Lincoln High); Jack Wise, Cleveland (West Tech High); Arthur Engelhard, Bellbrook; Paul Faubel, Lakewood; Roland Imes, Franklin; and Richard Wheeler, Cincinnati (Western Hills High).

880-yard run — Frank Wodarsky, Greenville, 2-mile run — Ed Mazzocco of Cleveland (Collinwood High) and Gordon Netschke of Berea.

Pole vault — William Hilliard, Cleveland (John Marshall), who has vaulted 12' in practice; Robert Roessler, Salem; and Norman Rousey, Athens.

High jump — Everette Tompkins, Cleveland (Rhodes), and Lawrence Lieving, New Haven, W. Va. Broad jump — Jay Pinson, Wheelersburg.

Discus — Tony Smith, Youngs-
(Continued on page 12)

Harvard's Conant Will Be Speaker

PLANS HAVE BEEN completed for the June Commencement at which time degrees will be conferred on almost 400 candidates.

Highlight of the two-day commencement period will be the appearance of Dr. James Bryant Conant, distinguished scientist and president of Harvard University, who will give the address at the formal graduation exercises in Alumni Memorial Auditorium at 10:30, EST, Monday morning, June 9.

President Conant is a member of a number of learned societies both at home and abroad. He has been awarded honorary degrees by 25 colleges and universities, and his research work has brought him international recognition.

In 1941, Dr. Conant, previously chairman of the National Defense Research Committee, was appointed chairman of the small group of scientists that was responsible, under the general chairmanship of Dr. Vannevar Bush, for the development of the atomic bomb program.

One of the busiest university presidents in America, Dr. Conant agreed to come to the campus in June out of friendship for Ohio University's president, Dr. John C. Baker, who was closely associated with the Harvard man in the administration of affairs at the Eastern school before accepting the Ohio presidency.

The annual Baccalaureate service will be held in the Auditorium at 10:30 on Sunday morning, June 8, with the Rev. Dr. James W. Clarke, of the Second Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, Mo., as the speaker.

Dr. Clarke was born in Scotland; educated at the University of Glasgow and McGill University, Canada; and preached in Montreal and Winnipeg for a number of years. In 1941, he became a member of the faculty of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Chicago, and, in 1944, accepted the call to the pulpit of the St. Louis church.

During World War I, Dr. Clarke served overseas for four years and was awarded the British Military Cross at the Battle of Amiens.

Other plans call for the President's Reception on Sunday afternoon, to be followed in the early evening by the traditional Commencement Supper "under the Elms," and the evening to be concluded with a concert by the University Chorus.

The reception will be held in the lovely garden of the president's home with President and Mrs. Baker and, possibly, President and Mrs. Conant, in the receiving line. Alumni are cordially invited to attend the reception.

The supper, for years one of the most popular of the commencement events, will be served on the campus just west of the Auditorium, to alumni, seniors and their guests, and members of the faculty. Tickets for the supper will be required and must be secured in advance by writing to or calling at the Alumni Office in Wilson Hall (East Wing) to the old-timers. A nominal charge is made for tickets, which, due to the food situation, will be limited to 750 this year.

Stations, or areas, under the Elms will be marked so that members of various class units will find it easy to locate their friends and campus contemporaries. Since it will be impossible to have the annual Alumni Luncheon this year, the Supper will serve as the reunion occasion for returning alumni.

The concert will be given by Ohio University's choral group of 50 selected voices under the direction of Prof. C. C. Robinson.

The concert, the baccalaureate service, and the graduation exercises are of course free, and no reservations are needed.

Bobcat Sports Review

(Continued from page 11)

town (Boardman High), who took second place in the state high school meet last year. Shot put—Kenneth Smith, Lakewood.

The schedule: Apr. 19—Western Reserve at Cleveland; Apr. 26—Bowling Green at Athens; May 3—Cincinnati at Athens; May 10—Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh; May 24—Mid-American Conference at Detroit, Mich.; May 29—Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware; and June 7—Ohio Intercollegiate Invitational at Delaware.

Varsity Letters Awarded

TWENTY-FIVE varsity letters in basketball, swimming, wrestling and cross-country have been awarded by Ohio University's Athletic Board. Numerals were given 17 Jayvee cagers and eight swimmers.

Ten players on the Bobcat basketball team that placed second in the Mid-American Conference earned varsity monograms.

Eight members of Ohio U.'s swimming team that won three out of six meets received letters. Six wrestlers on the squad that won three and dropped five meets were given letters. The cross-country award went to Ed Mazzocco of Cleveland.

Cage letters went to Kenny Walters of New Lexington and Bob Brandle of Chillicothe their fourth varsity award. Others who lettered were Dick Shrider of Glenford, All-Conference forward; Bob Dickey, Lancaster; Harry Gordon, Cleveland; Bob Johnson, Athens; Mark Wylie, Gibisonville; Gene Kinsley, Hartville; Gene Gyurko, Toledo; and Ralph Sayre, New Haven, W. Va.

Wrestlers who lettered were Bill Hess of Columbus; Ed Zednik and Dick Stack, Cleveland; John Kulazenga, Bellaire; Jack Browning, Portsmouth; and Pete Puhar, Elyria.

Swimming monograms were awarded Des Cook, Phil Cook and Paul Langmead of Cleveland; Ronald Barth and Jim Wilbraham, Cleveland Heights; Jack Hannan and Art Kern, Mansfield and Jerry Smith, Akron.

Jayvee cage numerals went to Bill Brandle of Chillicothe; Tom Dill, Groveport; Herb Pollock, Columbus; Ed Ruoff, Mt. Healthy; Bob Sanders, Lakewood; Ed Schott and Ken Weiss, Cleveland; Jim Shreffler, Woodville; Carroll Steele, Washington C. H.

Bill Trautwein, Athens; Paul Whyte, Nelsonville; Gene Williams, Portsmouth; Karl Baumholtz, Midvale; Harold Boughman, Barberton; Bob Freeman, Cleveland Heights; Bill Moore, Rocky River; and Tony Smith, Youngstown.

Numerals in swimming were awarded Louis Biegel of Massillon; Bill Nixon, Cleveland Heights; Ford Baker, Mt. Clemens, Mich.; Bill Earley, Cleveland; Bob McIlvaine, Panama, C. Z.; Jim Smith, Akron; Harry Wilks, Hamilton; and Norm York, Lakewood.

Fighting Parson Returns to College

By RALPH STONE SMITH, Director of Publicity, Ohio University

DURING World War II many ministers served in the armed forces, but only a very few of them piloted fighter planes.

One of those "Flying Fighting Parsons" is the Rev. Dean E. Hess of Marietta, a graduate student at Ohio University. He and his wife and two children are one of 96 families of veterans living in the university's FPHA four-room apartments located on East State Street opposite the Children's Home.

Ordained as a preacher in the Christian Church after graduation from Marietta College in 1941, Hess enlisted in the Army Air Forces and saw plenty of action over France and Germany while piloting a Thunderbolt (P-47). He flew 62 missions.

He was officially credited with shooting down one enemy plane over Landau, Germany, the probable downing of another, and destroying two on the ground.

For his feats, "Parson" Hess received a number of decorations, including the Air Medal with eight clusters, Distinguished Flying Cross, Presidential Unit Citation, three battle stars and the European Theater of Operations ribbon.

Why didn't Hess, who is qualified to occupy a pulpit, accept a commission as a chaplain? Answered the 29-year-old veteran modestly: "Well, I felt like I had as much red blood as the next fellow, so I enlisted in the Air Corps right after the war broke out and won my wings in September of 1942 at Napier Field. That's at Dothan, Alabama."

Hess went overseas with the 456th Fighter Training Group attached to the Eighth Air Force. While in England he was transferred to the 405th Fighter Group, Ninth Air Force. He was named group operations officer before the armistice with Germany in the spring of 1945, having risen to the rank of major.

Discharged in February a year ago, he came to Ohio University to get his master's degree in history. Next year he plans to go to Ohio State University and work toward a Ph.D. "Then," said the genial but reticent veteran, "I hope to preach and perhaps teach history on the side at some seminary. I preached for nearly six months in 1941 around Cleveland."

"Lady of the House"

However, at the moment, Hess is giving all his time to his books and his family. There is Larry, a rugged little lad of three and a half who enjoys nothing more than watching his daddy display some of his war trophies. Another son, Alan, is eight months old.

Rev. and Mrs. Dean E. Hess, Larry, and Alan

Chiming in at that point was Mrs. Hess, the former Mary Lorentz of Lowell, Ohio, who declared: "Yes, it is good to have a man around the house, especially with those children needing somebody to watch them 24 hours a day. But as far as my household duties are concerned, I'm not having much trouble since we moved in here to this clean four-room apartment."

The Hess', one of the first of 50 couples who moved into prefabricated houses in Veterans' Village last spring, now have "lots of room" compared with their former quarters. The temporary apartment buildings, of which Ohio University has 12, house eight couples each.

The units comprise a living room, bedroom, kitchenette, and bathroom. The 16 by 19 foot living room is furnished with a large gas heater. The 13 by 15 bedroom is equipped with a double-decker bed, chest, and mirror. A gas range and ice box are included in the 8 by 9 kitchenette, and there is a shower in the bathroom. A storage closet completes the apartment.

For all of this Hess is required to pay $22.50 a month, which includes gas, water and electricity, said Director of Men's Housing Gerald Stauffer.

For single veterans the university is providing temporary quarters on the Lower Campus for 593 men in five large T-type and 18 rectangular buildings.

Former associates and students of Dr. James P. Porter, professor emeritus of psychology at Ohio University, will honor the retired faculty man and his wife with a breakfast at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, on May 3 at the time of the spring conference of the Midwestern Psychological Association.

Reservations for the breakfast will be handled by Arthur W. Sherman, Jr., '40, of the Ohio University faculty.

Here and There Among the Alumni

1816

While THOMAS EWING and JOHN HUNTER, of the Class of 1815, have been honored as being the first graduates of Ohio University, they were not, as a matter of fact, the first to complete a course of study. This distinction belongs to DR. GILES S. B. HEMPSTEAD who was entitled to his degree and diploma in 1813. Owing to the condition of affairs in the partially organized university, he did not receive these honors when due, no graduation taking place. He should, therefore, have been recognized with Ewing and Hunter in 1813, but as a result of an oversight his degree was not conferred until the following year. Dr. Hempstead was born in New London, Conn., in 1794, and in 1802 came with his parents to Marietta, making the journey by wagon in 62 days. After leaving Ohio University he began the study of medicine and in 1816 established himself in practice at Waterford. In the early days of his practice the community was attacked by an epidemic of spotted fever. His successful treatment of the victims gained for him an excellent reputation as a physician. After a brief period in Waterford he moved to Portsmouth where he practiced for 67 years, until his death in 1883. His alma mater conferred upon him the honorary degree of LLD, in 1879. He was considered one of the best scientists of his time in southern Ohio, his research covering a wide range of subjects both scientific and literary.

1857

Mrs. Kate Miller Stanbery of McConnelsville, widow of ELIAS B. STANBERY, in celebrating her 103rd birthday anniversary on March 20 gave friends her recipe for longer living: "Don't become bored." Mrs. Stanbery has lived since birth in the small Morgan County community without finding it tiresome. Her husband, a prominent Morgan County banker, died in 1922 at the age of 89.

1897

DeWitt D. Lash, executive secretary of the Ohio Society of New York and manager of the society's club rooms in the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York City, is a former Athenian and a relative of E. REY "COBBY" LASH, '97x, and of GRETA LASH, '17, associate professor of English at Ohio University. Mr. Rey Lash is a retired pharmacist, and, with Mrs. Lash (ESTELLA HOBSON, '97, Ph.M. '98) is living in Athens.

1911

ORIN C. STOUT is an electrical engineer with the Champion Paper & Fibre Company in Hamilton. Mr. Stout is a brother of P. R. STOUT, '13, also of Hamilton, who is a mechanical engineer with the General Machinery Corporation.

The Pure Oil News, a publication of the Pure Oil Company, edited in Chicago by H. ELLIS SIBLEY, cx, and distributed throughout the country, contains a 3½

In order that present-day Ohioans may know something of the lives and activities of those who preceded them to the campus, reference is made each month to one or more graduates who have long since passed from the earthly scene.—Editor.

page article in its April issue written by Emeritus Dean Edwin Watts Chubb of Ohio University's College of Arts and Sciences. In this most interesting article

Dr. Giles S. B. Hempstead
(See Class of 1816 Notes)

Dean Chubb describes the "joys of living in a small town." He reviewed the historical background of the community and pointed out how 140 years of the cultural influence of a college has made Athens distinctive in many ways. The dean reminisced, too, about many former citizens and of events in the life of the community. Editor Sibley, an author and historian, is a former resident of Gallipolis. His delight in the Chubb article was evident in an editorial entitled "School Days."

1912

With her husband, J. E. Saugstad, chief of shipping in the U. S. State Department in Washington, Mrs. Saugstad (GLADYS VAN VALEY, 2-yr.) plans to visit Norway, Denmark, and Sweden this summer, sailing from New York aboard the Swedish liner, Gripsholm, known as the "Mercy Ship" which Mr. Saugstad directed on its repatriation tours during the war.

J. CARLOS DE MELLO, a Brazilian well known on the campus in his student days, assistant manager of the Rio de Janeiro Branch of the First National Bank of Boston which was opened in Brazil's capital city on April 15. The Boston bank is New England's oldest and largest banking institution and in the States the opening of the Rio branch was announced in full-page advertisements in TIME Magazine and other leading periodicals. A banker for some time, Mr. de Mello is a former director of the Banco Central do Comercio in Rio. In a recent communication he expressed a hope of being able to visit "old O.U." in the near future.

1913

More than 500 persons, including most of the employees of the Cuyahoga County Engineer's Office, many judges, federal, and county and city officials, attended a testimonial dinner for JOHN C. MCWILLIAMS, ex., at Cleveland's Hotel Hollenden on January 16. Among those attending was GEORGE M. BROWN, '31, president of the Ohio University Alumni Association. After serving as county engineer for 14 years Mr. McWilliams retired this spring to devote full time to private business. He is president of Plastic Engineering, Inc. The Clevelander is a former member of the Ohio University Board of Trustees.

JUDGE LEWIS H. MILLER, of the Fifth Judicial Circuit of West Virginia and currently a member of the executive committee of the Ohio University Alumni Association, has given to the photography department at his alma mater a large number of bound volumes of magazines of interest to this branch of the university. Judge Miller acquired the publications in the pursuit of his hobby, photography, and some of them are very valuable, being out of print and unobtainable at the present time. Many of the publications are highly scientific, but others may be read with interest and appreciation by amateurs.

"I'm in California, but not of it. I am still loyal to the midwest and to Ohio, but especially to O.U." Thus writes FRANCIS H. MCVAY, M.S.Ed. '14 (see picture), a retired educator now living with his daughter in La Crescenta, Calif. Although Mr. McVay did not receive his degrees until well into the 20th century he first entered Ohio University as a third year preparatory student in September, 1888. His college career was interrupted at various times thereafter. Five years ago he became a member of the "Golden Legion" of his fraternity, Phi Delta Theta, a recognition of 50 years of membership in this social organization. In a reminiscent mood he wrote: "What memories it [a picture of Cutler Hall] brought back. It looked exactly as it did in 1888 when I first climbed its front steps in fear and trembling to knock on the door of the 'Holy of Holies,' President Super's office. There was a gang of young men students hanging around the front steps waiting for Jenkins to ring the recitation bell. I am sure that some of the following were there: Guy or Dud Welch, Fred W. Bush, the Ginn brothers (George and John), Dave Thomas, the Biddle brothers (Roll and Dave), and F. E. C. Kirkendall" [see "Deaths"] . . . "I was there," the writer continued, "when Strickland Gillilan [nationally known humorist] invented his catapult. Strick called it a 'kitten-pult'—an instrument devised for the cross firing of peanut sacks filled with water from East Wing [Wilson Hall] and sacks filled with ashes from the West Wing [McGuffey Hall]. 'No Man's Land' was the stretch of walk in front of Cutler Hall." Now 74 years of age, Mr. McVay engaged in the profession of teaching for more than 50 years. During his career he was a superintendent of village and city high schools, and a county superintendent in four states—Ohio, Nebraska,

Francis H. McVay, Sr.
(See Class of 1913 Notes)

Wyoming, and Colorado. He has coached baseball, basketball, and track and at one time was president of the Wyoming State High School Athletic Association. Although an educator by vocation he has been a musician—director of bands, orchestras, and drum and bugle corps—by avocation. Besides his daughter, Mr. McVay has a son, Francis H., Jr.

1914

DR. STANLEY DOUGAN, and Mrs. Dougan (NELL STOKES, '16x), are now heading, by easy stages, back to their home in San Jose, Calif., after a double crossing of the United States in their streamlined aluminum auto trailer. The California medico gave up professional activities almost a year ago "on doctor's orders," but feels that he will soon be able to get back into the harness again. In the picture on page 16, Dr. and Mrs. Dougan are seen enjoying a reunion at Winter Park, Fla.—after 35 years—with former Ohio University friends. In the front row of the reunion group, left to right, are Mrs. George E. Carr (MERLE TEWKSBURY, '10, 2-yr.), and Mrs. Dougan. In the back row are HERMAN WILKES, '10x, Mrs. Wilkes (ELIZABETH DRUGGAN, '12x), Dr. Dougan, and GEORGE E. CARR, '10, 2-yr. Not to be confused with GEORGE E. CARR, '20, superintendent of the Logan public schools, the Florida gentleman is a former civil engineer and now manager of the Palms Tourist Court at Winter Park. Mr. and Mrs. Carr are the parents of DON R. CARR, '43, Cleveland.

1915

If EARL R. REINOEHL is musical he probably goes around singing "On the Atchison, Topeka, and the Santa Fe," for Earl has been with the Santa Fe railway since 1916. He is now engineer of inventories in the Chicago office.

FRANK O. NORRIS, 2-yr., is an electrical engineer for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company in the Goodyear plant at Norrkoping, Sweden.

1916

JAMES W. DARBY, age 89, one of the oldest prosecuting attorneys in the nation, died last month at his home in McArthur following a brief illness. He was Vinton County Common Pleas judge from 1924 to 1932, and was elected prosecutor in 1939. Among his survivors are a daughter, ANNA DARBY, a teacher in the high school at Bellaire.

At a formal ceremony, attended by many high-ranking officers of the American and British Armies and held at the residence of the American Ambassador to the Court of St. James's in London, on February 11, Major Gen. Clayton Bissell, military attaché to the American Embassy, presented ALEXANDER C. KERR (see picture), vice president of Lykes Bros. Steamship Co., Inc., on behalf of the President of the United States and War Department, the Medal of Freedom, with the following citation: "Mr. Alexander C. Kerr, American civilian, as Director of the War Shipping Administration for the United Kingdom and the Continent, from June 1942 to June 1944, greatly facilitated preparations for invading Africa and France. He was a key figure in handling tremendous volumes of cargo for the African invasion, in perfecting shipping allocations for the attack, and later in converting captured shipping to Allied use. Finally, through his broad knowledge and experience he was of immense value in planning the successful invasion of the French beaches."

1918

With a contribution to the Ohio University Fund and a membership fee for the Alumni Association, Mrs. Luther H. Powell (ANNA DORIS KENNEDY) sent "Greetings from the Far West." Mrs. Powell has been a resident of Missoula, Montana, for many years where her husband is owner and assistant manager of the Marsh & Powell Funeral Home. The Powells have two daughters: one married, and the other a senior in high school.

Mrs. W. Grant Scott (HALLIE HOOPMAN) has been asked by President Baker to represent Ohio University at the Centennial Convocation of Otterbein College on April 26. On the same day, April 26, ROBERT S. SOULE, '24, Fairmont, W. Va., will attend, as his alma mater's representative, inauguration ceremonies for the president of West Virginia University at Morgantown. Acting in a similar capacity DR. ROBERT W. WAGNER, '34, member of the faculty of Oberlin College will be the Ohio University representative, May 3, at the inauguration of William Edwards Stevenson as president of Oberlin College. JAY V. CASTLE, '22, was the Green and White representative at the inauguration of the president of Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, on April 10.

1919

In charge of the cafeteria at the YWCA in Cleveland when it reopened to the public on April 10 was ESTHER BERKSHIRE, ex, who has had extensive experience in the management of tea and dining rooms in Washington, D. C., Detroit, Columbus, and Zanesville. In 1938-1939 she was in charge of the Spanish Room of the Deshler-Wallack Hotel in Ohio's capital city.

Alexander C. Kerr
(See Class of 1916 Notes)

WILLIAM R. GODDARD, father of six Ohio University graduates or former students, died April 9 at the home of a daughter, Mrs. ESTELLE GODDARD DUTTON, '19x, in Dayton, at the age of 98 years. Mr. Goddard graduated from Marietta College and played on the first baseball team which the Pioneers ever fielded. He more than once recalled for the benefit of Ohio University friends that he played against Ohio U. in Athens on a field which is now Park Place, south of the campus, and that "Marietta won that day even though we only had eight men." The aged gentleman maintained a keen interest in athletics to his dying day. He was also interested in civic and educational affairs. He was a member of the Grange for more than 70 years and at one time served simultaneously on the school boards of his home township and of Athens County. He had taught school in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, and had lived on one farm for more than 69 years, raising and exhibiting trotting horses and sheep as well as carrying on crop experiments for the state and national agricultural departments. Mr. Goddard's children whose names have appeared on Ohio University rolls are: JOHN R. GODDARD, '17, Corpus Christi, Texas; Mrs. Earl V. Fisher (HELEN GODDARD, '18, 3-yr.), Perryburg; MRS. MARY GODDARD COVERT, '18x, Athens; Mrs. Dutton, Dayton; DEWEY M. GODDARD, '25, Athens; and AUGUSTA GODDARD, '29, at the parental home near Sharpsburg. The nonagenarian is survived by 13 grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

GORDON YOUNG, son of Prof. H. R. Young and Mrs. Young (RUTH HARTLEY, 2-yr.), is enrolled as a freshman at Ohio University. Gordon's father is a professor of English at Case School of Applied Science.

1920

HOMER H. MARSHMAN, Cleveland attorney and Cuyahoga County chairman for the Ohio University Fund, Inc., annually spends his winters in Florida. Early in February he had as his guests aboard his yacht, White Star, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Galigher (OTHA BEASLEY, '24x), and daughter, Jane. The Galigher's live in Huntington, W. Va., where Mr. Galigher heads a very successful Ford Agency.

1921

On January 24 the Cleveland Press published the pictures of the top-ranking students, scholastically, in the mid-year graduating classes of the Cleveland high schools. Among those pictured was a handsome lad, Paul Schleyer, who was graduating from West Technical High School and is the son of CHARLES E. "DUTCH" SCHLEYER, ex, and Mrs. Schleyer (BETTY KAMPHAUSEN). Paul received honor awards in English, science, and athletics at West Tech. His father is assistant president of Plastic Engineering, Inc.

1922

DR. CLAIR H. CALHOON, executive psychologist and director of the Ohio Bureau of Juvenile Research, Columbus, since 1930, has accepted a position as headmaster of the Glenview-Hillcrest Schools in Hamilton County. These are two correctional schools for young offenders. The new headmaster's wife is the former VIRGINIA POWELL, '22, who has been chief investigator in the boy's department of the Bureau of Juvenile Research.

WAYNE D. ANTHONY has the honor of serving as worshipful master of Venus Lodge No. 152, F. & A. M., at Mansfield in the 100th anniversary year of this Masonic body. He heads a committee which is planning a celebration to be held next October and is hopeful of securing STRICKLAND "STRICK" GILLILAN, '93x, (see Class of 1913 Notes), Washington humorist, as speaker for a dinner meeting.

1924

CARROLL E. STOUT, 2-yr., who has been with the General Electric Company since 1935—first in Cleveland, then in Stratford, Conn., and now in Erie, Pa.—is works accountant of the Household Refrigerator Division of GE in Erie.

On February 27 the Civil Service Commission of Cincinnati announced that

DR. GERALD H. CASTLE had finished first in an examination for the position of police and fire physician and surgeon. Although it is presumed that he was subsequently appointed to the position no further word has come to the Alumni Office. With the rank of commander, Dr. Castle was chief of surgery at various overseas bases. He also served at the U. S. Naval Hospitals at San Diego, Calif., and Great Lakes, Ill. During his 26 months of overseas duty he visited many of the Pacific islands and wrote several articles on fish and wildlife there, and other articles on what a man should do to survive in the tropics.

1925

JOHN F. WOODDELL, who did his post-graduate work at Vanderbilt University and was for many years a metallurgist and superintendent of the Foundry Laboratory in the College of Engineering at the University of Illinois, is now associated, as a metallurgist, with the Hansell Ecock Company in Chicago.

Wilkes-Carr-Dougan Reunion
(See Class of 1914 Notes)

HARRY H. LAPP, whose home is in Phillipsburg, N. J., is building superintendent of the Alpha Portland Cement Co. in Easton, Pa. Previously he was associated with electric sweeper companies in Easton and Wilkes-Barre.

1926

GLENN E. BOROUGH, who has been with the big General Motors Corporation since 1927, is chief accountant in the Photographic Section in Detroit.

When JEAN SAWYER, daughter of DR. T. D. "TED" SAWYER and Mrs. Sawyer (ELIZABETH MORGAN, '27x) was initiated recently into Pi Beta Phi social sorority, she was "pinned" with the emblem worn both by her mother and her grandmother, Mrs. PANSY HERROLD MORGAN, '02, 2-yr. Jean's maternal grandfather, THURMAN L. MORGAN, '03, died in 1929.

1927

G. R. EASTERLING, A.M. '33, accepted

appointment to an instructorship in biology at Kent State University early this year following his release from the Army. Besides Ohio U., Mr. Easterling has studied at the University of Michigan, University of Cincinnati, and Washington and Lee University. He has taught in the public schools of Jackson, Barberton, and Chillicothe.

Mrs. George Kummer (MARGUERITE CAMERON) is a resident of Bowling Green where her husband is a member of the English department staff of Bowling Green State University. Mrs. Kummer is a former teacher in the Country Day School at Rye, N. Y. Her brother, DR. BERT CAMERON, '36, is a research fellow at the University Hospital, Cleveland.

1928

MRS. CAROLYN GRAY WALLACE, a teacher in the Toledo public schools from 1928 to 1937, has returned to teaching in Toledo again and is now on the staff of the East Side Central School.

1929

The Veterans Administration has announced the appointment of DR. GUY W. BRUGLER, assistant director of University Hospitals in Cleveland, as a member of a special national advisory committee to formulate policy on medical care for veterans. Dr. Brugler was among the first Army medical officers to reach the Southwest Pacific.

More than a month ago JOSEPH W. BEGALA, one of the most outstanding wrestlers ever developed by Coach Thor Olson at Ohio University and now wrestling coach at Kent State University, watched his Golden Flash matmen score their 11th victory against 20 defeats and one tie since he took over the coaching reins at the Kent school in 1929. Ironically enough, Joe's boys have too frequently triumphed over the Bobcat matmen. In 19 matches against his alma mater the Begala boys have taken 12. He was an all-Ohio guard in football and captain of the Bobcat grapping team which copped the Buckeye Conference championship in his senior year.

Bobcat matmen. In 19 matches against his alma mater the Begala boys have taken 12. He was an all-Ohio guard in football and captain of the Bobcat grapping team which copped the Buckeye Conference championship in his senior year.

1930

MRS. MADGE JONES WILSON is a teacher in the Elm Heights School in Bloomington, Ind. This is an elementary school for Indiana University.

TON SLATER, ex, long associated with the Mutual Broadcasting System as studio manager of the system's key station, WOR, in Newark, N. J., and in other highly responsible positions, has severed his connection with the broadcasting company and is now associated with Ruthrauff & Ryan, Inc., in New York City. This is one of the country's largest advertising agencies. Upon receipt of the January issue of The Green and White, publication of the Ohio University Fund, Inc., Tom wrote to HAROLD E. WISE, '28, former associate fund director, that "it brings back memories of the days when I was in school and Mickey McNabb [FRANK W. McNABB, '27] was editor of the weekly sheet."

1931

MARY F. REED, A.M., who went to China in February of this year under the auspices of the Foreign Board of the Methodist Church, is a nursery school teacher in Ginling College in Nanking. Miss Reed was a teacher in the Nursery School of Oklahoma A. and M. College at Stillwater from 1931 to 1936, and was acting director of the school during the last two years.

MRS. ELIZABETH HOPE BASOM, who has been a dietitian at the San Jose Hospital, San Jose, Calif., has resigned that position to accept appointment as head dietitian for the Maryland State Board of Health. She will be stationed at Ritchey Hospital, Cascade, Md. Mrs. Basom is the widow of the late DR. JOSEPH N. BASOM, '22x, of Athens.

1932

RALPH W. FLECK is chief fiscal officer of the Berlin Section of the U. S. Army in Germany.

1933

CLARENCE P. BRYAN, A.M. '33, was promoted to the position of secretary and treasurer of the Cuyahoga Savings & Loan Company at the 55th annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cleveland institution early this year. Secretary-Treasurer Bryan is a member of the Ohio bar.

Mrs. Nila E. Moore (MABEL WILSON) is a partner, with her husband, in the Wadsworth Testing Laboratory in Canton. This commercial laboratory was started in 1938 in Wadsworth but moved to Canton in 1945. Mr. Moore is a former chemist with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at Barberton.

DR. ALBERT J. FISHER, a resident physician at Huron Road Hospital, Cleveland since 1941, has become director of anesthesiology for the Youngstown Hospital Association.

1934

DR. LAWRENCE I. GOLDBERG, A.M. '36, was an Ohio University visitor last month while on terminal leave following 35 months of service in the Army Medical Corps. He was accompanied by Mrs. Goldberg (ELEANOR HECHTKOPF, '34) and their two children, David and Frances (see "Births"). At present in Youngstown, Dr. Goldberg expects to locate soon for the private practice of medicine. He held a fellowship and was a technical assistant in Zoology at Ohio University, and received his M.D. degree at Ohio State University in 1944. During the war he was a transport surgeon aboard the USAT Bridgeport, plying between the United States and ports in the European Theater of Operations.

DANA C. MOFFAT and Mrs. Moffat (ETHEL BULLEN), both members of the Class of 1934, are teachers in the Edgerton public schools. The former is a music instructor, while the latter is teaching English in the high school.

KENNETH L. LOWMILLER, at one time music supervisor at Millersburg Military Institute, Millersburg, Ky., and later coach and instructor in Center Hill High School, Bourbon County, in the "feudin'" state, is now director of music at Hargrave Military Academy, Chatham, Va.

1935

ALBERT C. JOYCE, a civil engineer with a construction firm until May, 1946, is now part owner of the Kuntz & Joyce Trucking Company in Lorain. Mrs. Joyce was formerly DONNA SHULTZ, '33.

Joseph Hardy, husband of MRS. EDITH KEPLER HARDY, Nelsonville, has been appointed superintendent of the Minimum Wage Division of Ohio's Department of Industrial Relations. Mrs. Hardy was for many years a teacher in the Athens County schools.

DR. ROBERT B. SELOVER, A.M. '36,

Mrs. Richard J. Smith and "Van"
(See Class of 1946 Notes)

of Montclair, N. J., is a psychologist in the personnel department of the Prudential Insurance Company of Newark, N. J. The Prudential man received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Minnesota in 1940. He is the husband of the former MARGARET SEDER, '40.

1936

J. W. DAY, formerly with the Ohio Unemployment Commission at Springfield, has accepted a position as vocational appraiser in the Veterans Administration Guidance Center at Marietta College. His wife, NONA GEORGE DAY, '38, and two children, Roger and Ricky, will remain at their present home in Osborn until Bill can locate suitable living quarters in Marietta.

Last August HILDA JANE ELLIS resigned her teaching position in the high school at Mingo Junction to accept a similar position in Bedford. After five weeks in Bedford High School she was granted a release from her contract in order to become a member of the English staff at Kent State University.

HERBERT S. ALCOTT, JR., is secretary to the general superintendent of the Youngstown and Northern Railroad Company in Youngstown. The road, which carries, chiefly, coal, iron, and steel products, is a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corp.

1937

Back from the wars EVERETT C. "PETE" SHINGLETON has renewed his association with the B. F. Goodrich Co. in Akron, this time as manager of truck and bus tire sales promotion. Pete, a former Bobcat basketball star, is to be seen in the picture on page 19 with his wife, "Sunny," and daughter, Susan.

A tragedy of the gravest sort occurred in the life of CLAIRE C. DUNN, M.Ed. '40, late in February when, while driving five children to school in Toledo from his home in nearby Genoa, his car was struck by a truck trailer which became detached from its cab when the huge vehicle skidded on an icy highway near Genoa. The five passengers, ranging in age from 6 to 16 years were all killed. Only Claire and the truck's operator escaped death. Dunn, however, suffered a skull fracture, face lacerations requiring an unbelievable number of stitches, eight broken ribs, a fractured pelvis and hip, and a broken right leg and crushed foot. On April 15 he was reported as recovering "satisfactorily" at St. Vincent's Hospital in Toledo. The unfortunate man is physical director and assistant football coach at Toledo's Waite High School and was taking the children to the Little Day School. His wife is the former ADELAIDE STRIGHT, '41x.

1938

REUBEN "JERRY" ROTHERMEL, who was in China three years with the Army Signal Corps, is now out of uniform, and, with his wife, has opened a contemporary decorating and custom-made furniture business in San Antonio, Texas. Mrs. Rothermel, an artist, has had her lithographs exhibited in the Congressional Library in Washington and at Carnegie Tech Institute in Pittsburgh.

CARL S. MALLOW, JR., was one of 18 persons in the Cincinnati area who were recently sworn in as full-fledged attorneys by Chief Justice Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court. Barrister Mallow, who received his law degree from the University of Cincinnati, is a nephew of the late Frank Bonham, an outstanding probate judge in Cincinnati.

Mrs. B. Franklin Ferguson (KATHERINE McALLISTER) is the wife of the Presbyterian minister in Darnestown, Md. In the picture on page 19 she is to be seen with her husband and two children, Kathleen, aged 5 and Carl, aged 3.

1939

A recent issue of the Southern California Alumni Review reports the appearance of two SC faculty members on the program of the 16th annual winter meeting of the Western Society of Naturalists at Whittier College. One of the men was DR. JAMES W. BARTHOLOMEW, M.S. '41 (see picture), who is assistant professor of bacteriology at the Los Angeles school. Dr. Bartholomew's paper was entitled "Newer Knowledge of the Gram Straining Reaction." Gram staining, a technique designed by a Danish physician in 1884, has become the most commonly used technique in the bacteriological laboratory. Recent researches by the Ohioan have resulted in an increased knowledge of the formation of certain cells and of the effects of certain chemicals upon them thus widening the possible use of this technique. The California bacteriologist received his Ph.D. degree at the University of Wisconsin in 1944. He is the husband of the former SHERLEY BUZARD, '40, and a brother of THEORA BARTHOLOMEW, '30, Girard, Pa.

The "Speaking of Pictures" section of LIFE Magazine for April 14 contained the six photographs which won prizes in the 1946 Safety Contest of the National Safety Council. The awards were announced by the Council on March 27. One of the six prize winners was a picture bearing the caption "Blazing Dairy Barns" taken by HOMER O. HACKER, staff photographer for the Dayton Daily News. The picture won first prize in the farm division and was of two barns which had been ignited by spontaneous combustion. The grand award was made to a Minneapolis photographer for a chilling traffic-accident picture.

ORVILLE E. RUSSELL, who graduated with honors from Ohio University, did not slacken his scholastic pace while attending the School of Dentistry at Ohio State University. He graduated on March 14 with the highest honors of his class and as a recipient of the "Callahan Memorial Efficiency Prize in Dentistry." He also received another honor award, a year's internship in dental surgery. Orville gets lots of moral support from "the Missus," who is the former JANE CLINE, '37, A.M. '43. He is the son of MRS. GRACE BOARDEN RUSSELL, '30, 2-yr., of Hemlock.

1940

MRS. FLORENCE SMITH OGG, with her two children, Carol Lee and Charles L., Jr., sailed from San Francisco on March 21 to join her husband, CAPT. CHARLES L. OGG, '40x, at his station on Guam. Captain Ogg is an Army Air Corps veteran of Pacific warfare.

ROBERT H. SMITH, who went to the University of Wisconsin for graduate work in geography after receiving his degree at Ohio U., is now secretary of the boy's department of the Y.M.C.A. in Kalamazoo, Mich. Bob has been in the "Y" job since August, 1944.

BONNER POUSHY, now on the staff of the New York Daily News, is under assignment to cover certain phases of the work of the United Nations organization.

1941

A recent communication received from TECH. SGT. WILLIAM J. RADFORD, now at Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., said nary a word about the occasion for the current hospitalization. A friend of his, however, reports the belief that Bill has gone back to the hospital for the amputation of his right leg. He was severely wounded in a campaign in Germany during the war. Let's hope that the friend may be mistaken, or, if not, that Sergeant Bill will come through his ordeal in as good shape as possible. Friends who care to write to him should address their greetings to Ward 32, Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington.

RICHARD A. ROOSEVELT has recently changed positions. Formerly assistant supervisor of publicity for the General Electric Company in Erie, he is now advertising manager with the Erie Manufacturing Company in the same city, a concern that produces permanent magnetic separating equipment for processing industries. Mrs. Roosevelt is the former

Dr. James W. Bartholomew
(See Class of 1939 Notes)

DORIS BACH, '42. Their daughter, Cheryl Lynn, will soon be a year old.

1942

In addition to studying voice in New York City with Madame Lotte Leonard, NELLE FOSTER has a singing role in the new George Abbott musical show, "Barefoot Boy with Cheek," described by Broadway critics as a "delightful satire on college life and a colorful comedy, full of sparkling humor." Miss Foster's parents, Dr. R. A. Foster, of the Ohio University faculty, and Mrs. Foster, were in New York on April 3 to see the show which is appearing in the Martin Beck Theatre on 46th Street.

LILLIAN RUSNAK, after serving with the War Department's weather division in the huge Pentagon Building in Washington, reports that she is "back in Cleveland" where she is technical report editor for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Since the receipt of her diploma in 1942 MRS. THELMA NORRIS STARKEY, 3-yr., has been teaching the 5th grade in the public schools at Bolivar. Her husband, MORGAN STARKEY, '43x, is now majoring in mechanical engineering at the University of Cincinnati. The Starkeys have a two-year-old daughter, Carol Jean.

1943

A note received in February from JEANNE REMSEN PIERCE reported that she, her husband, JACOB N. PIERCE, '43, and their 1½-year-old son, Robert, would soon be moving to Alliance where Mr. Pierce will have an executive position in the McKinley Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Since his release from military service Mr. Pierce has been a field executive in South Carolina.

PEARL L. RUDY, who has been with the International Business Machines Corporation in Akron, is now with the Interstate Investment Company in McAllen, Texas. McAllen is in the extreme southwestern part of the state in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The company deals in investments and real estate. Miss Rudy writes that "the people are very genial and friendly and really know what gracious 'southern hospitality' means." She says that the sun always shines and it never rains. (Could Pearl be confusing Texas with California?—Ed.)

On April 16 Mrs. Charles E. "Jack" Pritchard (BETTY GREENE), with her two and one-half year old daughter, Charlene, pulled away from the pier at Ft. Hamilton, Brooklyn, N. Y., on the Atlantic voyage that would take them to her husband, CAPTAIN PRITCHARD, '41x, in Vienna, Austria. Captain Jack went overseas early in 1944 and was wounded in action in Belgium in 1945. He returned to the States later in that year and at one time served on the staff of the commanding officer of the First Military Area with headquarters in Philadelphia. He is now overseas again.

Second Baseman BOB WREN, who gave up his position on the Athens High School teaching staff early in February to join the St. Louis Browns at their Miami, Fla., training camp, fell just a trifle short of his own and the Browns' expectations and has returned to his former position at the Keystone Sack with the Toledo Mudhens, his 1946 club. Bob had some pretty potent competition from seasoned members of the American League club.

1944

JEAN BRAINARD is teaching art in the Shorecrest Outdoor School, a private school in St. Petersburg, Fla. With a recent letter she enclosed a news picture of JOHN MALDOVAN, '45, who was described as "a stocky, fireball pitcher with the New York Yankees." The Yankees did their spring training in St. Petersburg. Johnny underwent a knee operation during the winter which apparently has healed satisfactorily.

While on overseas duty with the Navy in 1945 ROBERT E. HOLMES received a check from the Ohio University Alumni Association in refund of an overpayment of his association dues. Early this month the check came back, never having been cashed, in payment of "dues" that really are due this time. Bob is now enrolled in the law school at Ohio State University.

Formerly in the Ashland public schools, LOIS SANDS is now an instructor in art in Ashland College.

1945

Mrs. J. Bernard White (THEODORA

"TEDDY" FRAZIER), the birth of whose nephew is announced on page 21, has recently resigned her position as secretary to the Assistant to the President of Ohio State University. Her husband received a Bachelor of Science in Commerce degree from Ohio State on March 14 and they expect to make their home at 306 McKinley Ave., Sand Springs, Okla.

MARGARET MARY JOSTEN spent three days in Chicago early in March attending the radio convention held at the Palmer House, as a representative of Dayton's Radio Station, WING, where she is assistant to the promotion manager.

MRS. LAVERNE BOUSE SWINEHART, '45, is dietitian again this year at Ohio University's Boyd Hall. Her husband, WILLIAM T. SWINEHART, '43, a B-29 flight engineer in the recent war, is pursuing graduate studies at his alma mater.

Rev. B. F. Ferguson and Family
(See Class of 1938 Notes)

1946

RICHARD J. SMITH is another Ohioan who is making good in the field of architecture. After an association of less than a year with a well-known Beverly Hills (Calif.) architect, Dick was given a job that will really test his abilities. It is the designing of the 10-acre Santa Anita Shopping Center development. The project will run nearly $1,500,000 when completed and will incorporate the latest techniques and facilities for shopping and recreation. "Oddly enough," Dick writes, "an 'Ohioan' is being given a chance to do 'Contemporary California Architecture' in a large office of 'Old Californians.' Thanks to Thomas Lerrick [former Ohio University professor of architecture] for giving me a good background in modern architecture designing." Dick's wife, a Californian, and their son, Evans Temple, are pictured on page 17. The picture was taken when "Van" was 19 months old. He will be two years of age next month.

JANE PORTER, who has been district director of the Allegheny Girl Scout Council at Pittsburgh, Pa., has returned to her home town of Steubenville to be executive director of the Steubenville Area Scout Council.

EDITH BOEHM, ex-Brooklyn, N. Y., who attended Ohio University and the Phoenix Art Institute, was honored with an exhibition of her pastel drawings in the Brooklyn Public Library during the first two weeks of April. Miss Boehm is the youngest staff member of the Associated American Artists, and the association plans to exhibit her work at its galleries in New York, Chicago, and Los Angeles in the early fall. Her "one-man" show in the Brooklyn library consists of 12 drawings of flowers. During the war Miss Boehm painted many portraits of invalided soldiers in hospitals in the New York area.

If family background is any qualification, RUPERT D. STARR must have had no difficulty in landing his present position as field secretary for his national fraternity, Delta Tau Delta. "Twink's" family tree reads like a Delt directory. His two brothers, father, grandfather, an uncle, and a great-uncle, not to mention numerous cousins and in-laws, are all Delts. During the recent war Field Secretary Starr was captured by the Germans in the Battle of the Bulge and marched to a prison camp in Poland, from which he was later liberated by the Russian Army.

1947

The Columbus Sunday Dispatch Magazine for March 2 carried an interesting story, "The Surprising Doctor," written by EDWARD C. BIRKNER, a graduate assistant in journalism at Ohio University. The story, concerning a one-time Columbus woman doctor, Dr. Mary Walker, who wore a high silk hat and men's clothes, but fought for women's rights, attracted wide spread attention, for the lady was known throughout the country. She was commissioned an officer in the Union Army in the Civil War and was awarded a medal by Congress for her wartime services as a nurse and assistant surgeon. Once when a Chinese diplomat asked Dr. Walker why she wore trousers the good doctor asked him why he wore a gown. She visited the Court of St. James's in teaching in Cleveland and Detroit high schools. He is the husband of the former Florence Cox, 22x.

Fund Has New Officers

(Continued from page 8)

In retiring as the Fund's first president, Mr. Johnson said that "to support the Fund is to express loyalty to Ohio University and acknowledge every good citizen's debt to his state's generous system of cultural development."

John G. Case, Jr., '13, Columbus insurance man, is the Fund's director and Paul R. O'Brien, '32, university controller, is secretary-treasurer. Trustees are Dr. Baker, Galbreath, Case, Johnson, and O'Brien.

1887, and in America 10 years later she founded "Adamless Eden," a woman's colony.

EDWARD A. "ZIP" ZEDNIK, who will graduate in June, and who played a heap of football at an end position for the Bobcats last fall, represented the Green and White in the National Inter-collegiate Wrestling Tourney held in Champaign, Ill., last month. Thirty schools were represented in the tournament. Upon the advice of his mentor, COACH THOR OLSON, '27, Zednik competed in the heavyweight division, but was eliminated in the second round. The husky Clevelander had won all of his eight matches this spring prior to entering the tournament. Mrs. Zednik (see "Marriages") is a graduate of the Washington School for Secretaries in Washington, D. C., as well as of Ohio University.

Everett C. Shingleton and Family
(See Class of 1937 Notes)

DANA S. CHASE has accepted a position as accountant with The Glidden Company in Cleveland. His wife, the former LOUISE MATTHEWS, '43, will continue until June as an acting instructor in mathematics at Ohio University.

LILLIAN LINDSCO, ex-Painesville, who has been under contract with the Paramount Studios for the last two years, appeared in the Hollywood technicolor production of Irving Berlin's "Blue Skies" recently released. This picture stars Bing Crosby, Fred Astaire, and Joan Caulfield. Miss Lindscro gets the close-ups for her dancing. While her sequence is not too long, it was quite enough to prompt Paramount casting directors to ask to see more of her in "Emperor Waltz," also starring Crosby and Joan Fontaine, and also in "Variety Girl," which Paramount is now making with some 37 stars and near-stars. Miss Lindscro had also danced in scenes in "Impertinent Lady" and is scheduled to perform in "Catalina" with several big-name artists.

Nancy Jean to DON R. THOMAS and Mrs. Thomas (MILDRED IRONS, '45), 312 E. State St., Athens, Mar. 2, 1947. The father is a student-veteran at Ohio University. The mother is a sister of LT. DONALD H. IRONS, '43, who was killed in action in France in 1944. The maternal grandfather is HAROLD S. IRONS, '18, superintendent of the public schools in Sewickley, Pa.

Howard D., III, to Major and Mrs. Howard D. Hively (ALICE BEASLEY, '34), 426 Dunkirk Rd., Baltimore 12, Md., Dec. 26, 1946. Major Hively, who established a brilliant record with the A.A.F., is now engaged in recruiting activities for the Army.

Karen Jeanne to FRED V. WAGNER, '43, and Mrs. Wagner, 2605 W. 7th St., Suite F, Cleveland 13, Feb. 4, 1947. Mr. Wagner is a junior in the School of Dentistry at Western Reserve University. Aunt and uncle, respectively, of the new arrival: Mrs. Raymond J. Sponsler (DOROTHY WAGNER, '41), Ashland, and RICHARD E. SWARZELL, '43.

JAMES MERRILL to Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Lands, Jr. (MARY KATHRYN BOWMAN, '44), R. F. D. 2, Millfield, Dec. 21, 1946. Mr. Lands is employed with the Athens Truck & Implement Co.

DAVID MARTIN to IRVING MILLER, '38, and Mrs. Miller (LEONA PALTROWITZ, '37), 68-12 Yellowstone Blvd., Forest Hills, L. I., N. Y., Feb. 8, 1947. Mr. Miller is production manager of Miller's Brass Fitting Co. in Brooklyn.

GARY HAY to REX B. POTTER, '41, and Mrs. Potter (JANE HAY, '42x), 2409 N. W. 12th St., Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 8, 1947. Mr. Potter is a sales representative for the Parkersburg (W. Va.) Rig and Reel Co.

James Garretson to Mr. and Mrs. George S. Tillman (BARBARA REMSEN, '42), Clinton, N. Y., Jan. 27, 1947. "Garry's" father is editor of alumni publications at Hamilton College. The baby is a nephew of Mrs. Jacob N. Pierce (JEANNE REMSEN, '43), Alliance, Ohio.

CARY MILES to CLARENCE M. BJORK and Mrs. Bjork (HELEN KUKONEN, '42), 49 W. 102nd St., Shanks Village, Orangeburg, N. Y., Dec. 3, 1946. Mr. Bjork, who pursued graduate work at Ohio University, is now enrolled as a graduate student in Teachers College, Columbia University.

SHARON LYNN to LT. COL. A. R. STACY, '36, and Mrs. Stacy, 235 N. Roosevelt Ave., Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 16, 1946. Colonel Stacy is in charge of the Marine Detachment at Port Columbus. An uncle and aunt, respectively: VAUGHN E. STACY, '34, Toledo, and Mrs. Richard A. Evans (HELEN STACY, '38), Lowell.

CLINTON SPRING to Dr. and Mrs. S. Spragg Jacob, III, (MARY ELLEN BIBBEE, '37), 1690 Calvert St., Detroit 6, Mich., Mar. 6, 1947. Dr. Jacob is a resident physician at the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit. The maternal grandparents are Mrs. MAYME SWANSON BIBBEE, '08, 2-yr., Athens, and the late E. C. BIBBEE, '08, 2-yr.

KIMBERLY ANN to FRED K. GREINER,

'41, and Mrs. Greiner, Canal Winchester, Feb. 17, 1947. Mr. Greiner is coach of athletics in the Canal Winchester high school.

ELAINE RUTH to MICHAEL DANNIS (formerly Iwanotchko), '41, and Mrs. Dannis (LAURA BROWN, '41), 926 Midway St., Middletown 19, Jan. 20, 1947. Mr. Dannis is an analytical chemist with the American Rolling Mills Co.

James Webb Partlow

Attention, Coach Wise! The husky lad pictured above is James Webb Partlow, a prospect (with his mother's consent, mind you) for the Bobcat grid squad of 1944. "Jamie," a year old this month, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Partlow (NORMA VAN DERTORT, '43), 1127 Hilltop Road, Fairfax Hills, Kansas City 2, Kans. The picture was taken at the age of 10 months. The young man's father is a sales engineer for General Refractories.

MEAD ALBERT to N. ALBERT CARLSON, JR., '42, and Mrs. Carlson, 333 Maryland Ave., Erie, Pa., Mar. 3, 1947. An Army veteran, the father has returned to his former position with the Erie Meter Systems, Inc.

JANE ALICE to DAVID HORINE, '41, and Mrs. Horine (ALICE SNOOK, '44x), 754 Oak St., Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 3, 1947. Mr. Horine plays the base violin with the Columbus Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra and is also on the staff band of Radio Station WBNS in the Ohio capital.

ERIC EDWIN to ELI N. HIRSIMAKI, '40, and Mrs. Hirsimaki, 362 Old Main Road, Conneaut, April 2, 1947. Mr. Hirsimaki is in the payroll department of the Pittsburgh & Conneaut Dock Co., a U. S. Steel subsidiary. He is a brother of JOHN A. HIRSIMAKI, '39.

SUSAN ELIZABETH to JOHN C. SPARKS, '40, and Mrs. Sparks (HOPE SPIDELL, '41), 4726 Seventh St., S. W., Canton 4, April 8, 1947. Mr. Sparks is assistant treasurer of the United States Quarry Tile Co., manufacturers of glazed floor and wall tile.

Roger Ellsworth to ELMER E. DUNHAM, '42, and Mrs. Dunham (EDNAMEA RIKER, '44), 1386 Belle Ave., Lakewood 7, March 14, 1947. Mr. Dunham is a correspondent, in Cleveland, for the duPont Company.

KIP ALLEN to NORMAN C. KRIEGER, '42, and Mrs. Krieger (MARTHA ALLEN, '43x), 3581 East Scarborough Rd., Cleveland Heights 18, March 24, 1947. Mr. Krieger is a student at the Western Reserve School of Dentistry.

Gregory Glen to WILLIAM C. BACHELOR, '44, and Mrs. Bachelor, 827 Ca-hoon Rd., West Lake, Ohio, Aug. 3, 1946. Mr. Bachelor is an electrical engineer (P-2) with the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics in Cleveland.

Lydia Anne to HARRY M. LACKEY, '33, A.M. '36, and Mrs. Lackey (GRACE SAMMONS, '37), 57½ Elmwood Place, Athens, Apr. 4, 1947. Mr. Lackey is coach of athletics in Athens high school.

JOSEPH to DR. PHILIP G. WILKINSON, '39, and Mrs. Wilkinson, 10 Bowline Green, Washington, D. C., Apr. 3, 1947. Dr. Wilkinson is a chemist in the Naval Research Laboratories in Washington. The baby's paternal grandparents are Dr. G. T. Wilkinson of Ohio University's department of Romance Languages and Mrs. GERALDINE WRIGHT WILKINSON, '25.

Laura Kathleen to EDWARD C. HENSCH, '48x, and Mrs. Hensch (ALICE MACCOMBS, '43), 7600 Euclid Ave., Cleveland, Feb. 19, 1947. Relations: Mrs. ADDA MACCOMBS, '28, Athens, grandmother; and JANE MACCOMBS, '46, and ANN MACCOMBS, '45x, Washington, D.C., aunts.

Frances Ruth to DR. LAWRENCE I. GOLDBERG, '34, A.M. '36, and Mrs. Goldberg (ELEANOR HECHTKOFF, '34), 1436 Florencedale Ave., Youngstown, Aug. 20, 1946. For further information regarding Dr. Goldberg, see the Class of 1934 Notes.

Bud Morgan to GERALD E. RAMSEY, '43, and Mrs. Ramsey (VIRGINIA RARDIN, '44x), 1016 North St., Caldwell, Mar. 18, 1947. Mr. Ramsey is an instructor and coach in Caldwell High School.

Jonathan Adrian to ADRIAN F. PILLOD, JR., '41, and Mrs. Pilrod, 3347 Northern Blvd., Manhasset, L. I., N. Y., Mar. 19, 1947. Mr. Pilrod is in business on Long Island.

Linda Marlene to GAIL R. NORRIS, '41, and Mrs. Norris (FAYE CHANDLER, '42, 3-yr.), 192 E. Warren St., Columbus, Dec., 1946. Mr. Norris held a graduate assistantship in zoology at Ohio University the year following his graduation, and now, after a period of war service, has a similar assistantship at Ohio State University.

Marilyn Sue to JERRY A. RODGERS, JR., '39, and Mrs. Rodgers, 3802 Staunton Ave., Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 28, 1947.

Mr. Rodgers is another war veteran who has returned to a previous position, with the du Pont Company near Charleston.

EUGENE RICHARD TO RICHARD C. FRAZIER, '41, and Mrs. Frazier, 138 E. Hudson St., Columbus, Feb. 12, 1947. Mr. Frazier is engaged in his fifth quarter of study in the College of Law at Ohio State University. Eugene's aunt is Mrs. J. Bernard White (THEODORA "TEDDY" FRAZIER, '45), Sand Springs, Okla.

Walter Harry to HARRY W. ZIPPERMAN, '35, and Mrs. Zipperman, 3440 Gates Place, Bronx 67, N. Y., Nov. 4, 1946. Mr. Zipperman is an auditor for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Betsy Jane to ROBERT J. BARRETT, JR., '40, and Mrs. Barrett (MARY JANE SPONSELLER, '42x), Redondo Beach, Calif., Mar. 21, 1946. Mr. Barrett is an accountant with the Leach Relay Co. in Los Angeles. Betsy Jane is a niece of Doris SPONSELLER, 29, of the Ohio University faculty.

Linda Lee to ALAN MOORE, '39, M.S., '41, and Mrs. Moore (ELEANOR KINCADe, '40x), 2806 Cedar Ave., Apt. 6, Cleveland, Mar. 31, 1947. The father is now a junior in the Western Reserve University School of Medicine.

Mary Lou to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Holst, Jr., (MARJORIE CHEETHAM, '38, 2-yr.), 102 West 22nd St., Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 3, 1947. Mr. Holst is associated with Howard's Laundry and Cleaners in Little Rock.

Nancy Kathryn to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin W. Nix (DOROTHY PATTERSON, '42), 610 Wings Ave., Marietta, Ga., Mar. 6, 1947. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. LAVINA MILLER PATTERSON, '15x, Marietta, Ohio.

Roland Richard to RICHARD F. KOLDA, '47, and Mrs. Kolda, 10311 Sladden Ave., Cleveland 5, Dec. 7, 1946. Mr. Kolda is a graduate student at Western Reserve University.

John Richard to RICHARD E. PANCOAST, '42, and Mrs. Pancoast (NANCY JO COUNTS, '44), 205½ North Liberty St., Galion, Feb. 21, 1947. Mr. Pancoast is a salesman for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. He is a brother of JAMES PANCOAST, '44x, and a cousin of ROBERT F. PANCOAST, '41, Monroeville.

Patrick James to BERNARD J. McCASHEN, '33, and Mrs. McCashen (REGINA MULLIGAN, '31), 704 North Mt. Pleasant Ave., Lancaster, Sept. 25, 1946. Patrick's father is director of physical education in Lancaster's West Junior High School.

John Melvin to GEORGE M. BORIGHT, '41, and Mrs. Boright (LOIS CASSIDY, '41), 805 Mt. Royal Ave., Cumberland, Md., Oct. 28, 1946. Mr. Boright is export advertising manager for the Kelley-Springfield Tire Co. The baby's paternal grandmother is house mother for Zeta Tau Alpha sorority at Ohio University.

Elizabeth Stewart to JAMES H. L.

ROACH, '37, A. M., '41, and Mrs. Roach (PATRICIA PALMLR, A.M., '41), 25½ Richland Ave., Athens, Feb. 24, 1947. Mr. Roach is an acting instructor in psychology and vocational appraiser at Ohio University. Both of the paternal grandparents, MR. AND MRS. CLARENCE ROACH, Athens, and an uncle, LEE STEWART ROACH, '29, A.M., '31, Athens, are Ohioans.

"Peek-a-boo!" says Jeffrey Wilson to all of his daddy's Ohio University friends. Jeffrey, 3½ months old when his picture was taken, is the son of SAM W. FLAN-NEY'S 5th Division. An aunt of Patricia Ann; Mrs. Robert Fischer (JUNE ET LTZ, '39).

Sherri Lynn to Mr. and Mrs. George E. Joachim (ALICE RARDIN, '40), 56 Lincoln St., Athens, Apr. 11, 1947. Mr. Joachim is a student-veteran at Ohio University.

Stacy Edson, III, to STACY F. WOLFE, '33, and Mrs. Wolfe, 1040 W. Exchange St., Akron 2. Mr. Wolfe is a salesman for the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. The baby's mother is one of the Akron Firestones.

Priscilla Grandin to WALDRON C. SCHRUERS, '44, and Mrs. Schruers (RUTH GRANDIN, '40x), 4 Colonial Place, Baldwin, L.I., N.Y., Nov. 30, 1946. Mr. Schruers was recently transferred from the home office of Talon, Inc., in Meadville, Penna., to the New York office of this company.

Edgar Bruce to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Rannow (CLARA KUENZLI, '33), 215 West Church St., Galion, Feb. 12, 1947. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rannow were formerly associated with the Athens public schools, the former as an athletic coach and the latter as a vocal music supervisor.

A daughter to JOHN C. HERRON, '42, and Mrs. Herron (MARY BRIDGE, '39), Apr. 1, 1947. Mrs. Herron is at her parental home in New Marshfield, while the father, a war veteran, is now studying law at Ohio State University.

A daughter to WAYNE T. MATTHEWS, '31, and Mrs. Matthews, Dola, March 2, 1947. A former superintendent of the Chauncey-Dover Schools, Mr. Matthews is now superintendent of schools at Dola, a community in Hardin County.

Kathryn Lucille to Mr. and Mrs. John Reuter (ELMA SMITH, '43), 1028 Avon Way, Akron, March 6, 1947. The father is associated with the Collins Heating and Ventilating Co.

Martha Ellen to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown (SARAH THOMAS, '37), 322 Mt. Clemens Road, Pontiac 16, Mich., Feb. 17, 1947. Martha Ellen is a niece of the late LT. LLOYD THOMAS, '35, an Ohio University Gold Star man, and of ANETTE THOMAS VORE, '29 2-yr.

George Thomas, Jr. to GEORGE T. CALVIN, '42x, and Mrs. Calvin, 325 East 257th St., Euclid, Feb. 17, 1947. Mr. Calvin is employed with the Thompson Products Co.

David Ross to DEAN W. NIDA, '40x, and Mrs. Nida, 450 King Ave., Columbus, Dec. 31, 1946. Mr. Nida is associated with the Midland Mutual Insurance Co. in Columbus.

Elizabeth Ann to Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Roseberry, 229 Highland Ave., Athens, Ohio, Jan. 26, 1947. Dr. Roseberry is professor of physics at Ohio University.

Marden Joy to CAPT. CLIFFORD C. CORNELL, JR., '42x, and Mrs. Cornell, Tampa, Fla., Jan. 22, 1947. Capt. Cornell, an AAF officer, is stationed at MacDill Field, Fla.

Jeffrey Wilson Flannery

ELEANOR JEAN MORGAN, '44, Chillicothe, art teacher (Cleveland) to William E. Farkas, Cleveland, grocery store owner, Dec. 26, 1946. At home: 3406 Germaine Ave., Cleveland 9.

BETTY GELLER, '45, 3-yr., Cleveland Heights, to Daniel D. Nussbaum, Cleveland, owner and operator of a beverage store, Dec. 26, 1946. At home: 1835 Lee Road, Cleveland Heights 18.

IDA DRAKE, '39, Waterford, teacher (Detroit, Mich.), to Richard Abbott, Euclid, safety director, General Motors plant (Elyria), Jan. 25, 1947. At home: 55 East 216th St., Euclid.

Alice Stair, Buck Creek, Ind., instructor in home economics at Ohio University, to RICHARD H. LOCKARD, '42, Athens, a war veteran and German prisoner for 18 months, and now manager, Twin Pines Restaurant, Jan. 1, 1947. At home: 50 Hudson Ave., Athens.

MRS. SHIRLEY KNIGHT ERVIN, '44, Nelsonville, medical technician for Dr. Horace B. Davidson (Columbus), to Lyman J. Gunyou, West Liberty, student-veteran, College of Engineering, Ohio State University, Mar. 15, 1947. At home: 2369 Williams St., Columbus 2. Mrs. Gunyou is the widow of MAX L. ERVIN, '42x, Ohio University Gold Star man.

KATHLEEN MONDHANK, '45 (see picture), Lancaster, secretary in the office of the dean of men, Ohio University, to Edward A. Zednik, Ohio University senior and war veteran, March 31, 1947. At home: East State St. Apartments, Building 8, Apt. D., Athens. For further news concerning the bridegroom see Class of 1947 Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Zednik

Marriages

Betty Greenlee, Monroe, La., student, Texas State College for Women, to WILFRED R. CARROLL, '47x, Waterbury, Conn., associated with Wilhelm, Inc. (retail photo and optical supplies and equipment) Feb. 8, 1947. At home: 29 Hallock St., Waterbury. Best man: CHARLES D. "CHUCK" BURDETTE, '47, Akron. The groom lacked only a few hours of graduation when he left the campus in January of this year.

JEAN PENNY, '40, Napoleon, to Edward de la Peña, Los Angeles, Calif., chief radio broadcast and recording engineer, Sunset Radio Center (Hollywood), Sept. 14, 1946. At home: 15074 Victory Blvd., Van Nuys, Calif.

RUTH HACKER, Dayton, Ohio University senior, to HARRY K. MILLHOFF, Cleveland, Ohio University junior-veteran, Mar. 31, 1947. At home: East State St. Apts., 10-A. Mrs. Millhoff is a sister of WARREN E. HACKER, '37, Shaker Heights; HOMER O. HACKER, '39, Dayton; DR. VERNON D. HACKER, '44, Cleveland; and ROBERT E. HACKER, an undergraduate at Ohio University.

MARTHA ROBINSON, '37, RFD, Athens, teacher, Harding High School (Marion), to Raymond E. Clik, Prospect, farmer, Feb. 14, 1947. At home: 237 Uhler Ave., Marion.

NELLE FERGUSON, '35, Reinersville, chief, employee relations division, Columbus General Depot, U. S. Army (Columbus), to John R. Stradley, Jr., Asheville, N. C., district manager for the American Brakeblok Co. of Detroit (Jacksonville, Fla.), Oct., 1946. At home: 1494 Edgewood Ave., Jacksonville 5, Fla.

Mrs. Jane Reed, Zanesville, employed with Rankin & Rankin, Inc., to W. EARL BECKLEY, '23, Athens, Ohio representative for A. Stein & Co., Chicago, manufacturers of men's and women's wear, Feb. 24, 1947. At home: 938 Maple Ave., Zanesville. Mr. Beckley is a brother of HARRY C. BECKLEY, '10, 2-yr., and PAUL H. BECKLEY, '32, Athens, and of Mrs. Don McVay (ETHEL BECKLEY, '15, 2-yr.), Leroy.

Mrs. Louise Dutton Dates, Bristol, Va., secretarial position (Dayton), to ROGER J. JONES JR., '40, Athens, Mar. 14, 1947. At home: Hempstead, L. I., N. Y. Following release from service in the AAF the groom flew for Panagra Airways in South America, and is now co-pilot with the Atlantic division of Pan-American Airways in New York. Mr. Jones is a son of ROGER J. JONES, '13, and Mrs. Jones (MARGARET MOORE, '12, 2-yr.), and a brother of JOHN M. JONES, '42x, Athens.

Janice Cochran, Sunbury, teacher, to VICTOR R. BATTERSON, '35, high school teacher (Hebron), Dec. 28, 1946. At home: Hebron. Mr. Batterson is the son of the REV. FRANK J. BATTERSON, '98, Bluffton.

GRACE JOHNSTON, '40, Dayton, free lance writer (New York City), to Paul Danheiser, free lance artist, Nov. 23, 1946. At home: 220 West 10th St., New York 14, N. Y.

GERTRUDE GADUS, '40, Cleveland Heights, with Home Service Dept., General Electric Co. (San Francisco, Calif.), to HARRY J. DAVIS, '41, Youngstown, with Standard Oil Co. (San Francisco), Mar. 22, 1947. At home: 2297 Laguna St., Apt. 7, San Francisco 15. The bride is a sister of MARY GADUS, '44x, Cleveland Heights.

MARY LOUISE HAGEMAN, Dayton, Ohio University senior, to EARL PHILIPS, JR., Columbus, Ohio University junior-veteran and business manager of the 1946 and 1947 Athens, Mar. 29, 1947. At home: East State St. Apts., Athens. The marriage, which took place at the Linden Avenue Baptist Church in Dayton, was really an Ohio University affair. The bride's three attendants were sorority sisters, while the best man and the four ushers were members of the groom's fraternity.

ELIZABETH JANE MORRIS, '45, RFD, Athens, high school teacher (Chesterhill), to EDWIN MCPHERSON, Athens, Ohio University student-veteran, Apr. 6, 1947. At home: Chesterhill.

MARY CATHERINE SHIELDS, Nelsonville, secretary to Dr. L. E. Butt, Nelsonville physician, to WILLIAM A. MECHEM, '42, Nelsonville, manager, Stanley's Shoe Store (Athens), Feb. 28, 1947. At home: 77½ W. Columbus St., Nelsonville. The groom is a son of State Senator Stanley Mechem. Sister of the groom: Mrs. George Drach (ALICE MECHEM, '42), Santa Rosa, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Mechem

Deaths

FRED E. C. KIRKENDALL

FRED E. C. KIRKENDALL, '93, age 76, for many years superintendent of the Zanesville public schools and an educator known throughout the state, died in Zanesville on March 31 as a result of a heart ailment following a hospitalization of ten days. He had been a visitor in Athens only a few days prior to his death.

Mr. Kirkendall was born at Dawkins Mills, and entered the preparatory department of Ohio University in 1886. He graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Pedagogy in 1893, and the degree of Master of Pedagogy was awarded him in 1900.

Following his retirement from public school administration, Mr. Kirkendall served as the Ohio representative of Little, Brower & Company, book publishers.

Mr. Kirkendall married the former Alice Pilcher of Canaanville, who survives him, as does a daughter, Mrs. Clyde Cramer, and two grandchildren of Columbus.

The deceased was a brother of Mrs. MARGARET KIRKENDALL CAMPBELL, '83, Boulder, Colo., at present the oldest living woman graduate of Ohio University. He was also a brother of EMMETT R. KIRKENDALL, '06, Rossford, and C. R. S. KIRKENDALL, '83. Two brothers, JAMES A. KIRKENDALL, '86, and L. B. C. KIRKENDALL, '80, and two children preceded him in death.

CHARLES D. HOPKINS

C. D. HOPKINS, 77, a life member of the Ohio University Board of Trustees, died suddenly at his home in Athens on February 12. He was a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and held a law degree from Ohio State University.

After following the legal profession in Athens for a number of years he entered the coal business as an operator, a business which he pursued until the time of his death. Mr. Hopkins was the father of RUFUS C. HOPKINS, '20, Athens, and of RACHAEL HOPKINS, '25, Youngstown. A granddaughter, Carolyn Hopkins, is a senior in Ohio University.

BELLE EDDY MERCER

MRS. BELLE EDDY MERCER, '17, a former member of the Ohio University faculty and widow of Dr. W. F. Mercer, head of the department of zoology at Ohio University from 1900 until his death in 1929, died March 11 in Buffalo, N. Y. Funeral services were held at Cattaraugus, N. Y.

Mrs. Mercer was born in Persia, Cattaraugus County, N. Y., Aug. 19, 1864. In 1886 she married William Fairfield Mercer, a fellow student at Hillsdale College in Michigan. In 1898 she accompanied her husband to Cornell University where, two years later, he received his Ph.D. degree.

Mrs. Mercer taught in Waterford Academy, Waterford, Pa., and in Chamberlain Institute, Chamberlain, N. Y., after her marriage. From 1918 to 1922 she was an instructor in biology at Ohio University.

In 1929, Dr. Mercer received fatal injuries, while greasing his automobile in the yard of his summer home at Otto, N. Y.

FRANK WARWICK MOULTON

FRANK W. MOULTON, '97, veteran Portsmouth attorney and Scioto County representative in the State Legislature, died suddenly March 22 of a heart attack while ordering lunch in a Portsmouth restaurant.

Mr. Moulton was elected to the legislature on the Republican ticket in 1944 and re-elected in 1946. Capital newsmen report that he was one of the lower chamber's most conscientious members, faithfully attending all sessions and committee meetings.

The Portsmouth solon was born at Lucasville Feb. 14, 1877. Shortly after graduation from Ohio University he was appointed clerk of the U. S. Commission to the Paris Exposition of 1900. He worked for the commission for three years, going abroad when the exposition was finally held in Paris. Upon his return he entered the University of Cincinnati Law School from which he graduated in 1902. He had engaged in the general practice of law in Portsmouth from the latter date until the time of his death.

In addition to his legal practice, Mr. Moulton was active in Farm Bureau affairs and was a director of the Portsmouth Banking Company. He was at one time in charge of the Federal Farm Loan office in Portsmouth.

Among his survivors are his wife and mother. The latter, visiting in St. Louis at the time of her son's death, observed her 86th birthday anniversary on the day following Mr. Moulton's death. One of Mr. Moulton's sisters, also a survivor, is the wife of Branch Rickey, owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers and former general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

CARLOS H. CAMERON

CARLOS H. CAMERON, '21x, age 49, died suddenly following a heart attack suffered while attending a meeting of a local fraternal organization in Athens on February 11.

Mr. Cameron had been engaged in the insurance business in Athens for a number of years, and was associated with his father until the latter's death in 1939, at which time his wife, the former Golda Totman, joined him in the conduct of the business.

Mr. Cameron was the father of NED CAMERON, an Ohio University student, and a brother of Mrs. J. D. Murch (OLIVE CAMERON, '16x), Cincinnati.

WALTER JEAN HARPER

JEAN HARPER, '15, for many years a chemist with The Glidden Company (paints and varnishes) in Cleveland, died of a heart attack at his home in Lakewood early on the morning of February 22 after having suffered two minor attacks at his place of business the previous day.

The Cleveland chemist was born in 1890 at Monday, Ohio. Coming to Ohio University, he received the A.B. degree with the Class of 1915.

Engagements

JOAN GALBREATH, '46, Columbus, graduate student, Ohio State University, to James Wallace Phillips, Columbus, Ohio State University student-veteran. The wedding will be an event of September 14. Miss Galbreath is the daughter of JOHN W. GALBREATH, '20, member of the Ohio University Board of Trustees and president of the Ohio University Fund, Inc., and of the late MRS. HELEN MAUCK GALBREATH, '19. Among the guests at the announcement party were U. S. Senator John W. Bricker, as well as a number of friends from Athens.

BETTY HINES, '45, East Liverpool, with the Lubrizol Research Corp. (Cleveland), to E. P. Rogers, senior, Western Reserve University School of Dentistry, and son of the State Director of Industrial Relations. June 28 is the date set for the wedding. Miss Hines is a sister of JOHN E. HINES, '44.

ANN DRESSEL, '44, Belpre, high school teacher (Parkersburg, W. Va.), to Lawrence M. Ronning, Miami, Fla., student-veteran, University of West Virginia Law School (Morgantown).

NORMA LUCCIONI, '45, Cleveland, night food supervisor, Stouffer's Restaurant (Pittsburgh, Pa.), to EDWIN L. POWELL, Lisbon, Ohio University student-veteran.

Betty Jane Jones, Youngstown, sales department, General Fireproofing Co., to MELVIN S. FRANK, '39, Youngstown, high school teacher (Salem).

Carmela Frell, Warren, a Kent State University Phi Beta, and at present a graduate assistant in sociology at Ohio State University, to ROBERT J. SPRAGUE, '46x, Athens, a senior-veteran at Ohio State. The wedding will take place early in June. Mr. Sprague has been accepted at the University of Geneva, Switzerland, for a year's graduate work in the School of International Law and Economics, beginning next October.

Louise Jane Hersh, Shaker Heights, senior, Flora Stone Mather College (Cleveland), to RAYMOND P. COHEN, 41, East Cleveland, publicity director, Ohio Advertising Agency (Cleveland).

ANITA GREGORY, Dayton, Ohio University senior, to Wayne R. Rittenhouse, Jr., Columbus, Ohio University student-veteran. The wedding will take place June 11.

In 1921 he married GRACE POST, a classmate, whose home was near Washington C. H. There are two children. A son, Howard, returned from military service in the Pacific area only last fall, and is now employed in Indianapolis, Ind., as a railroad civil engineer. A daughter, Anne, graduated from Mt. Holyoke College with Phi Beta Kappa honors last June, and now holds a position as a research chemist with the Sun Oil Co. in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Harper is a sister of HAZEL POST, '21, Riverside, Calif.

OHIO UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS

SCHOOL OF MUSIC

presents

The 1947

SUMMER BAND CLINIC- WORKSHOP

for

THE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT
THE BAND DIRECTOR

ON THE CAMPUS

"In Scenic Southeastern Ohio"

A STIMULATING MUSICAL EXPERIENCE IN A VACATION ATMOSPHERE FOR THE STUDENT

A PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM FOR THE BAND DIRECTOR

A FULL PROGRAM OF HEALTH EDUCATION AND RECREATION

For further information or copies of the Summer Band Clinic-Workshop, address:

DIRECTOR OF THE SUMMER SCHOOL

OHIO UNIVERSITY

ATHENS, OHIO

"OLDEST UNIVERSITY IN THE NORTHWEST TERRITORY"

